

Plot Disclosed In Death Of Field Marshal Wilson

Report Victim Received Threat- ening Letters Previous To His Assassination

BLAME IRISH REPUBLICANS

Fifteen Men and Women Arrested In Attempt To Run Down Conspirators

By Associated Press
London.—The police investigating the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson have come into possession on documents, says the Central News Friday, disclosing a conspiracy to take the life of a number of prominent persons and conduct a campaign of outrages.

ARREST FIFTEEN
Fifteen men and one woman were arrested in the raids throughout London Thursday night in connection with the assassination. It was announced in the house of commons Friday morning by Austen Chamberlain, the government leader. He stated that every step possible was being taken for the protection of life in Ireland and England and intimated that a discussion of Irish affairs would be held Monday.

James O'Brien and James Connolly who were arrested directly after the shooting were arraigned in the Westminster Police court Friday and charged with murder.

In connection with the reports of a Sinn Fein plot, the statement is made that certain houses, including the Wilson residence have been mysteriously marked recently and the home of Lord Carson in Eaton Place, was guarded Thursday night.

Field Marshal Wilson, it is learned, had received threatening letters for some time from anonymous and other sources, but did not heed them.

The question of strain among the police with automatic pistols is being considered by the government in view of the tragedy.

In Ulster it seems to be widely taken for granted that the Irish Republican army was responsible but no proof is offered and General Owen Duffy's denial stands unchallenged.

It is reported that the officers commanding the British troops remaining in Dublin visited all the theatres and motion pictures houses Thursday night and ordered the soldiers attending the performances to return immediately to their barracks.

SAYS TARIFF BILL IS AID TO FAVORED FEW

HITCHCOCK DECLARES MEASURE WOULD GIVE MONOPOLY TO CERTAIN MANUFACTURERS

By Associated Press
Washington.—The prediction that another era of trust formation would follow passage of the administration tariff bill, was made Friday in the senate by Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, Nebraska. He charged the real purpose of the measure was to shut out imports in many commodities and give a monopoly to favored manufacturers at the expense of the American consumer.

Declaring that the great shrinkage in the country's international trade in the past two years was largely responsible for the present depression, the Nebraska senator said a policy of further restricting that trade was "nothing less than stupidity."

AIMED AT GERMANY
Senator Hitchcock called attention to the fact that the only country with which American commerce was improving was Germany and argued that the pending bill seemed to be directed against trade from that country.

"Time after time in this discussion," he said, "which tariff schedules have been defended as necessary to check imports from Germany. Time after time German competition has been given as the reason for raising the tariffs. The settled purpose of authors of this bill seems to have been to attack German trade and make it impossible for German imports to enter the country."

"When we have asked for proof it has not been possible for the bill's champions to produce any statistics at all to show that imports from Germany are injuring American industry under the present law. On the other hand imports from Germany since the war have gained very slowly—much more slowly than our exports to Germany."

SOCIALIST-LABOR LATE FOR PRIMARIES

Petitions Are Filed Too Late To Be Organized As Political Party

By Associated Press
Madison.—The Socialist-Labor party in Wisconsin filed its petitions for organization as a political party within the state late to receive a place on the September primary ballot. Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, advised the leaders of the group Friday.

Under the Wisconsin statutes, any body of voters who wish to create a party must file papers with the secretary of state at least 90 days before the primary election, bearing the signature of at least one-sixth of the voters of ten counties, if a slate of state officers is to be put up.

The Socialist-Labor organization failed to file until several days after the time limit. According to Mr. Hall the party intended to put up a full ticket in the election. Their candidates will run as independents at that time.

AMERICAN GOLFER WINS BRITISH CHAMPIONSHIP

By Associated Press
Sandwich, Kent.—Hagen, the American professional golf star, won the British open championship Friday.

The final scores of the three Americans were:
Hagen 300; Barnes 301; Hutchison 302.

Barnes' score for the last round was 73.

ROAD CONDITIONS

By Associated Press
Milwaukee.—Road conditions in Wisconsin are practically unchanged from a week ago, the Milwaukee Journal's tour department reports Friday.

Highway 15 between Milwaukee and Fond du Lac has 28 miles of detour at the present time, and highway 57 to Plymouth and 23 from Plymouth to Fond du Lac is suggested as the best route.

For points north of Appleton take highway 57 to Hiltbert Junction 114 over to near Menasha and 15 to Appleton.

Highway 55 has four detours between the intersection of 15 and Fond du Lac. The condition of this road is generally poor.

For St. Paul use 57-114 to Appleton, 47 to Bonduel, 16 to Chippewa Falls, 11 to Eau Claire and 12 to St. Paul.

Women And Children Scoff At Victims Of Torture In Fight With Strike Breakers

Illinois Coal Mine District In Confusion After Battle

By Associated Press
Herrin, Ill.—"Bloody Williamson, so called because of many acts of violence in recent times, most of them accompanied by numerous fatalities Friday was preparing for what official action is expected in connection with the massacre at the Lester Strip mine when between twenty-seven and forty-five persons were slain after striking union miners had stormed the sixty or more strike breakers operating the mine.

An inquest into the deaths was expected Friday. Coroner McGowan saying he hoped Friday to have time to get this feature of the affair. There was no indication that a grand jury would be summoned although this was a possibility, for it was said that officials doubted they could obtain evidence which would be on any real value.

So far as the number of dead was concerned, there still was little but speculation. A score were in morgues; newspapers previously had counted 26 bodies in the woods and roads; one man died in a hospital; Frank Partridge, state president of the miners announced that his official reports showed 44 killed; citizens still brought in reports of bodies lying around the country; but, through all of it, there was no way of fixing a definite number.

MANY WOUNDED
In the wounded list, there were 18 in the Herrin hospital, three reported in the Carbondale hospital, and a number of others—union striking miners—believed to be lying in their homes. A dozen or so were believed to be at the bottom of a pond. No one seemed inclined to drag the pond. No searching parties have been organized to seek bodies in the woods.

All reports, whether from miners or from strike breakers or mine operators—agree that the killings really were a massacre, that the victims were shot down in cold blood after they had put up the flag and surrendered themselves and their arms to the attacking forces. Many persons in the county uphold the slaughter as the rightful act of judgment. Citizens gathering on street corners Thursday and Friday laughed and joked over the affair and proudly boasted that "some of these days people will realize that it does not pay to try to break a strike in Williamson county."

KILLERS ROAST
In the morgue, women and children, as they passed through commented on the accuracy of the shooters who brought down these victims.

Men who openly boast that they were in the attacking force relate with apparent pride the stories of what in war times would be called brutality. The story of the attack on C. K. McDowell with only one leg, who was beaten to death with stones before he was killed by bullets was told by persons who say they were eye witnesses.

SAFE IS LOOTED
The mine safe was located and one man, with some $1,500 in bills, stood with a semi-circle of men around him, and dealt out the bills like cards, according to wounded men who were there.

The correspondent saw men wounded almost to death, kicked around in the scorching sun in dusty roads. Surrounded by armed men, he saw a knife plunged into the throat of a wounded man who in his dying breath gasped a plea: "In the name of my mother, in the name of your mother, in the name of our God, give me water." Only to receive laughs and jibes such as "Where you're going you want see water" as a reply.

Mothers carried babies into the morgues and up to piles of bodies in the roads with such remarks as, "Take a look at what your papa did, kid."

CURSE DYING MAN
He watched a man walk to the bedside of a dying man and curse him and jeer at him as he breathed his last. Through it all, although the light area was traversed a dozen times, there was not a word heard of sympathy for a victim. The sentiment seemed to be that strike breakers deserved slaughter and that usage had received it.

Few of the dead could be positively identified. Most of them had been rifled of all effects. After lying piled in the morgues Thursday, they were embalmed Thursday night. Scores watched the processes all through the night, making unprintable remarks about the bodies.

That Friday would bring official action of some kind was undoubted. That this action would bring little in the way of results was the prediction of most every one in touch with the situation.

MILITIA READY
The order of Governor Small Thursday night to hold 1,000 men of the militia in readiness in Chicago was greeted on the streets here with sarcastic comment. A member of the police force told the correspondent that if troops were sent here he'd "take the night police force and clean them out." Inquiry developed that he was the night police force himself.

The request of the governor for an official report brought more sarcasm, the gist of which seemed to be that there was nothing to report officially.

Official statements were scarce. Everyone talked of the fight and many freely related their own experiences, yet none even knew of it officially. The killed simply "dropped dead" it was explained when official statements were asked. No one was murdered, it was said, officially. It was remarked that there had been 27 killings here since Jan. 1.

PLAN TO BURN MINES
Early Friday morning several newspaper men were privately informed that plans were afoot to burn a number of mines which in previous years had labor troubles.

SENATE TAKES UP INVESTIGATION OF GASOLINE PRICES

Committee Employees Gilbert F. Rowe Of Madison As Counsel—Send Questionnaires

By Associated Press
Washington.—Plans for the senate investigation into gasoline price increases moved forward a step Friday with the employment by the manufacturers committee of Gilbert F. Rowe, Madison, Wis., as counsel, and decision by the committee to submit questionnaires to all oil interests on gas and oil holdings. Mr. Rowe is a former law partner of Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, chairman of the committee.

The questionnaire was understood to ask specifically for data on the stocks of gasoline, crude oil and other petroleum products held by the various interests on various dates during the last three years and information as to prices on various dates of the products mentioned.

The questionnaires were made returnable by July 15 and it was deemed unlikely that further action of importance by the committee would be taken before that date.

U. S. Planning Return Of Property To Aliens

Under Present German Tax Law Allies Would Eventually Get This Money In Payments For Their War Reparations.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—Although President Harding has decided to follow the humane course which has been traditional in American history in returning the private property of citizens of an enemy country, the painful truth is that in the instance of the German nationals practically all the property now held by the United States will come into the hands of the German government and eventually will be transferred to the allied governments as reparation money.

This is because the German government has on its statute books a tax on capital which would virtually confiscate the property about to be returned by the American government to German citizens. President Harding and his associates realize this but it was stated at the white house in response to an inquiry that the United States government is powerless to intervene as between German citizens and the German government.

MIGHT ASK TAX WAIVE
There has been some discussion of the possibility that the American government might make as a condition of the return that the German government waive the tax on capital. The department of state use its good offices to secure exemption for German nationals having property in the United States.

For the moment, however, American officials will not intervene. Unofficially German embassy spokesmen have assured American officials that the tax on capital would not be enforced against the German nationals having property returned to them by the United States government and it may be that this will be the case but there is nothing definite to guarantee such an outcome and it is believed a special law would have to be passed in Germany to cover the exemption.

$300,000,000 INVOLVED
The situation becomes particularly vital because the United States plans to return $300,000,000 worth of property which takes in about ninety three per cent of the people interested in getting property back. The remaining seven per cent of the property estimated to be returned from $350,000,000 to $450,000,000. Should the German government practically confiscate the first $300,000,000 it would have an important bearing on the disposition of the remainder of the property.

Americans who have claims against the German government either through the death of relatives on the Lusitania or elsewhere in the war zone and the loss of property know that in the present state of Germany they have little chance to collect their claims. That's why they have been insisting that the property of German nationals could be used as a means of paying American claims. The president and his colleagues have been opposed to this on the ground that American tradition was against confiscation of private property of enemy citizens but American claimants declare that if the American government doesn't confiscate it the German government will and the proceeds will not go either to American claimants or the owners of German property but will go to the allied governments as reparation payment.

SUGGESTS PAYING CLAIMANTS
The representatives of American claimants have suggested that the wiser course for the American government to follow would be to hold the German property in trust until Germany can pay American claimants.

MINER WAR BRINGS NEW BOOTLEGGERS

By Associated Press
Herrin, Ill.—The Williamson county mine war has produced a new type of bootlegger the newspaper bootlegger.

Local news stands were informed late Thursday night that if they sold any out of town papers containing accounts of the fighting they would be "treated roughly."

Occasionally a person can slip in the back way of a news stand—just as if he were seeking a drink—and by whispering softly to the vendor, receive a little package which lastly slipped into one's pocket. Unfolded it is that much sought possession—an out of town paper with complete story of the trouble here.

Needless to say the prices have risen in accordance with the law of supply and demand and real bootlegger's figures are asked.

TWO ARE KILLED IN STREET CAR STRIKE

Clarksburg, W. Va.—Two men were killed, a deputy sheriff suffered a broken arm and a dozen other persons received minor injuries when a mob attacked an interurban traction car carrying non union miners and officers of the Hudson Coal company, guarded by deputy sheriffs from this city to the Lewis mine near Reynoldsville Friday morning. The mob stopped the car, pulled off the trolley and swarmed aboard. Two of the attacking party were shot as they crawled through windows. The mine was opened on an open shop basis Monday.

WISCONSIN TO GET U. S. AID IN ROAD BUILDING

Madison.—Federal aid to Wisconsin for road building during the next four years will total $6,762,000 under terms of the $190,000,000 highway appropriation bill recently signed by President Harding, providing the legislature appropriates funds to meet this amount, the highway commission announces.

No provision was made by the last legislature to meet the federal aid allowances for 1923. This is expected to be one of the first acts of the 1923 session.

Charges Against Roads Not To Come For Hearing If Walk out Is Called For

By Associated Press
Chicago.—Thirty charges against a score of railroads for alleged illegal contracting of railway labor to avoid wage orders of the United States Labor board may go without prosecution next Monday when the cases are called, if the results of the shopmen's strike vote is determined before that date.

The shop workers are now voting on a triple-barrelled strike proposition, including the question of forming out car and locomotive shops to contractors. By this practice the employees claim they are deprived of their seniority rights, since they cease to be in the employ of the railroad, lose their past privileges, rates of pay and working conditions established by road agreements and by the labor board.

If the strike vote, which is to be canvassed Saturday and Sunday, shows a majority in favor of striking over this question, the employees will have no further interest in the case now before the board and will not appear against the roads according to John Scott, secretary of the Railway employees' department of the American Federation of labor.

RELIEF FOR STORM AREA PROGRESSING

Madison.—Relief for the destitute families of the tornado swept district of northwest Wisconsin is being organized throughout the state under direction of county agents and chairman of county boards, the committee appointed by Gov. J. J. Blaine to direct the aid to storm sufferers, reported Friday.

Financial assistance is said to be the immediate need of the farmers of St. Croix, Polk, Barron and Dunn counties who lost their crops and property through the storm last week. While no definite amount has been named by the governor's committee as required to meet the needs of the stricken families, Governor Blaine has said that $200,000 should be raised.

LAWYER'S WIFE NEVER HEARD HIM ARGUE CASE

By Associated Press
Waukegan, Ill.—Everybody in Waukegan in connection with the trial of Gov. Len Small was in court Friday afternoon when Charles C. Leforge, of Decatur, made the final argument in the governor's behalf—with one exception.

The single exception was Mrs. Leforge. Although she has been here constantly since the trial started nine weeks ago Mrs. Leforge has never seen the inside of the courthouse. She has never heard her husband argue a case and has never been in a courtroom but once, that exception being when Mr. Leforge was admitted to practice before the United States supreme court.

REPORT SITUATION IN HAND

President Of Mine Workers Of America Says Union Is Not To Blame

By Associated Press
Waukegan, Ill.—Gov. Len Small at noon Friday received a telegram from Col. S. N. Hunter, representative of the Adjutant General at Herrin placing the blame for the rioting which led to the massacre of more than 25 non union workers on the shoulders of the Williamson County officials.

Col. Hunter, who was sent to Herrin a week ago to report to the governor and Adjutant General Blaine on the situation, told the governor in Friday's message that he at no time thought the Williamson county authorities could handle the situation and that they should have asked for troops before the rioting started.

Herrin, Ill.—Official investigation of the mine war which killed from 27 to 45 near here, began Friday in response to insistent demands from Governor Small for action by local authorities when Coroner McGowan announced that an inquest would be held immediately and States Attorney Ditty stated that a special grand jury would be convened following the inquest to investigate the massacre.

The States Attorney expressed doubt that any definite results would be obtained through the investigation, saying that it was virtually impossible to obtain evidence. He insisted, however, that every possible step would be taken and telegraphed Gov. Small an official statement to that effect.

UNIONS NOT TO BLAME
Cincinnati.—John L. Lewis in a statement here Friday declared "the United Mine Workers of America is not to blame for the massacre at Herrin." He said the organization of which he is president never encouraged or condoned lawlessness.

Sinister influences, Mr. Lewis declared, had been at work among the miners "to incite and inflame the spirit of violence."

Coal companies, he asserted, had employed "thousands of detectives to work among the striking miners."

HALL TO SEND OUT PRIMARY NOTICES

County Clerks Must Publish Notices Once a Week For Four Consecutive Weeks

Madison.—Official notice of the September primary in Wisconsin was completed Friday by Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state and will be sent out during the first week in July to all county clerks who are required to publish it once each week for four consecutive weeks in at least two newspapers of general circulation.

There are to be nominated at the primaries, set for Tuesday, September 5, a governor, a lieutenant-governor, a secretary of state, a state treasurer, an attorney general, a United States senator, 11 representatives in congress, 17 state senators, 100 assemblymen and in addition also a county clerk, county treasurer, district attorney, sheriff, register of deeds, clerk of court, surveyor and coroner for each county of the state.

State senators are to be nominated in each of the odd numbered districts, while those in even numbered districts hold over their offices until January 1925.

BUSINESS BEST DONE IN RUSSIA WITH FLATTERY

Often Cigarettes And Praise For Soviet Efficiency Obtain Needed Permits

Odessa Business can be done in Russia but it must be done the Russian way. Time has no value, but patience flattery and a few cigarettes will accomplish wonders. Foreigners have learned that a Russian never gets around to a business proposition until he has first flattered to have anything to do with it. After he has spent an hour or two explaining why he cannot agree he will suddenly say, "Very well I'll do it."

This is particularly true of Soviet officials charged with issuing the stamped documents without which a foreigner can hardly move. These officials find the most reasonable excuse for not issuing documents, but if they are allowed to talk themselves out then given a cigarette and a few words about Soviet efficiency the permit usually is forthcoming.

Frequently after getting a permit to do some certain thing the official to whom it is directed will not recognize it. Traders doing business in South Russia and Constantinople often present their guarantees to Soviet officials in these places only to learn that they cannot be recognized. However a little flattery and a few cigarettes will usually bring a concession often more liberal than is called for in the original permit.

ELMER JOHNSON IS IN POLITICAL RING

Three more men have announced their candidacy for county offices. They are Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, Harry Shannon, and Elmer Johnson. Shannon's name is in circulation. Shannon has taken out papers for the office of clerk of circuit court of which he is the incumbent. He will be opposed at the primaries by Elmer Johnson, well known fight promoter. Both will run on the Republican ticket. Dr. Ellsworth will seek reappointment for the office of coroner also on the Republican ticket.

WALTER AVE. WOMAN SURE TRUTONA WILL GIVE OTHERS SAME RELIEF AS SHE DERIVED

Feared She Was Never Going To Regain Strength But Famous Tonic Quickly Brought Desired Results.

"I was beginning to think that I'd never regain my strength, when I began using Trutona but this splendid medicine has certainly caused me to think otherwise," Mrs. Aaron Dore, 406 Walter avenue, enthusiastically told the Trutona Expert last week. "I had been in a rundown condition for some time," she continued. "I felt so weak and tired out all the time and it just seemed that I couldn't get my strength back. I realized, also, that constipation was fast becoming a chronic ill with me and a few so many local people had praised Trutona, I decided to try it. This medicine, as others have said has certainly proved its worth in my case. I am now feeling 100 per cent stronger today. Trutona has driven away that weak feeling which formerly an-

RIGHT TO TEACH ANTI-CHRISTIAN IDEAS QUESTIONED

Wisconsin Has No Ruling Covering Matter In Public Schools of State

By Associated Press
Madison—The courts of Wisconsin have not yet indicated whether the teaching of anti-Christian doctrines in tax-supported schools is unlawful.

Mortimer Levitan, assistant attorney general advised Rev. Martin Hesland of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., in an unofficial opinion. He pointed out that the statutes prohibit the use of sectarian books or the instruction of sectarian subjects in public schools. Wisconsin law also requires Mr. Levitan said that it shall be the duty of every teacher to teach morality and humane principles. The state constitution provides that there shall be no religious restriction, nor sectarian instruction in common schools or in the university. Whether anti-Christian doctrines may be taught has never been decided, the opinion says.

THREE WEDDING EVENTS TAKE PLACE AT FREEDOM

Special to The Post-Crescent
Freedom—Mr. and Mrs. William Paul celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday. Their two sons, Charles of Freedom and John of Oconto, and their six daughters, Sister M. Blanche of Notre Dame, Milwaukee, Mrs. Peter Verstegen of Appleton, Mrs. Arnold Verstegen of Seymour, Mrs. Andrew Gehring of Henry Van Assen and Mrs. Adrain Diederick, thirty-two grand children and eight great grand children took part in the festivities. The Rev. F. J. Peters, the Rev. Father Muller and Sister M. Claude and a number of other relatives also attended. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Smith and daughter of Kaukauna spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Nabberfelt. Nick Nabberfelt of Milwaukee is spending a week here visiting relatives.

The Freedom baseball team played Black Creek here Sunday and won. The score was 7 to 5.

4 Men in 7 Bald at 40

—yet 95% needlessly!

Science discovers falling hair due to simple infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it.

Written Guarantee to Grow Hair This New Way

This is to offer you, under absolute money-back guarantee, the new Van Ess treatment, which, under clinical tests, grew hair on 91 heads in 100.

It embodies new principles. Principles heretofore unknown to science. Now high authorities say baldness soon will be a rarity. For hair roots seldom die. And this method revives them. Test it yourself at our risk.

Hair Roots Rarely Die

Records show 4 men in 7 are bald, or partially bald, at 40. Modern science proves this to be unnecessary. Proves only 5 men in 100 need ever be bald!

Baldness is not a disease. Note this fact and mark it. It is merely a symptom of infection—of an infectious scalp oil, known as Sebum.

Remove this infected Sebum and hair will grow. Under the bald scalp, the hair roots live. This is true in 95% of all cases of falling hair or baldness.

This new method reaches the roots. It makes hair grow. But the public has often been deceived. So we guarantee it. You take no chance of loss.

New Hair or No Money

We make our guarantee without reservation—without strings. It is absolute. We guarantee to stop falling hair in two weeks. We guarantee to grow new hair. If we fail, your money back without question. Note that your own druggist signs the guarantee. Thus you assume no risk.

It is safe for us thus to guarantee the treatment. For experiments of years prove it effective on 91 heads in 100. Foremost authorities approve it. World noted dermatologists now employ it—many charge as much as $500 for the treatment.

We offer it, in correct form for home use, at the price of an ordinary "tonic."

The Infected Sebum

95% of all hair troubles are traced to infected Sebum. It is an oil that forms at the roots of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil.

But it cokes on the scalp. It forms a breeding place for bacteria. It clings to hair and destroys it. It lodges in hair follicles and plugs them. Then germs by the millions start to feed upon the hair. Semi-baldness soon is marked. Then comes total baldness.

You can see this Sebum on your scalp, in the form of an oily excretion. Or, when dried, as dandruff. But it does not kill the roots. Hence when you remove it, new hair grows. This is scientific fact—medical authorities will tell you so. You must remove the infected Sebum.

Now We Remove It

For years, science experimented to combat infected Sebum. Finally a 95% effective specific was found. Now we have embodied it in a home treatment. It is called Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage.

It is applied a new way—a scientific way. (Note illustrations above.) It penetrates to the follicles of the hair. It combats the Sebum and removes it. Results are marked. They are quick. In two weeks it stops falling hair. It grows new hair with continued use.

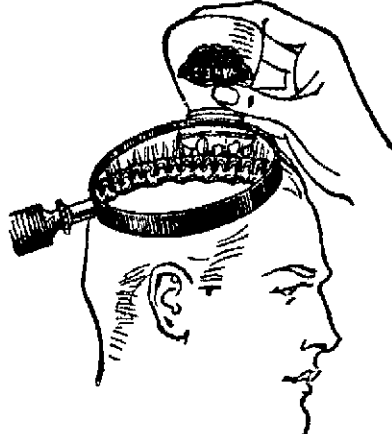

We urge you to try this new way. We know the statements we make are amazing—almost incredible. But remember, we back them with an absolute guarantee.

Note the results yourself. Mark the healthy condition of your scalp—the freedom from dandruff. Look in your mirror—see for yourself.

Go today to any druggist. Obtain the Van Ess treatment. With it you will get our guarantee, signed by the druggist from whom you buy it. Hence, it is folly not to try it.

Pay Nothing

Unless we grow hair. The Van Ess treatment is absolutely guaranteed. You are the sole judge. The warrant is signed by your own druggist. You assume no risk making this test.

Note this New Way

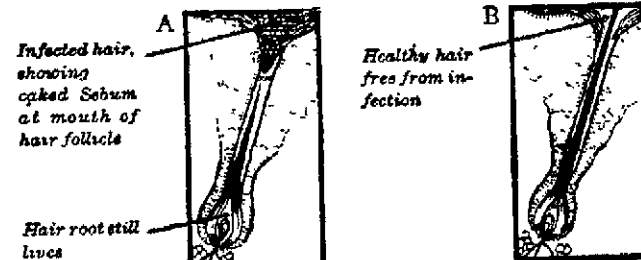

—It Massages the Treatment Directly into the Follicles of the Hair

This patent applicator makes hair treatment, at home, possible for the first time. Blood alone revives. Treatment must reach the infected area under the surface. We accomplish it, as the illustration above shows, with hollow nipples of scientifically perfect rubber massage-cap which comes with every bottle of Van Ess Hair Grower. The lotion is fed directly into the follicles of the hair. At the same time the flow of blood is stimulated by massage to the hair root.

BEGIN INSTALLING AERATING SYSTEM AT WATER STATION

Time is Lost in Putting Process to Remove Odor From Water

Work on the installation of the aerating system at the waterworks plant was begun on Thursday.

A large concrete basin will be built outside the plant and a pipe 12 inches in diameter will be erected through which the water is to be forced into the air by pumps thus breaking it up into fine particles that will absorb oxygen. The fountain will present a beautiful appearance especially at night when a light will reflect its rays upon the water.

Ordinarily the pipe would be 25 feet high but the temporary arrangement is to have the water forced up only to about 15 feet. If the experiment is successful an addition will probably be made. Water coming into the receiving tank will be led through a pipe and forced by a pump into the air falling into several sets of perforated plates arranged in a pyramid fashion and then flowing back into the receiving tank for filtration.

The process is designed to remove any odor from the water and put it into it to make it more palatable. It is the breaking up of the water and the contact with the pure air that will produce this. A J. Hall plant superintendent compared the process with that of taking a glass of boiled water and throwing it back and forth from one glass to another to remove the flat taste.

FOND DU LAC SOON WILL HAVE ARTERIAL SYSTEM

The city commission of Fond du Lac has taken preliminary steps toward adopting an ordinance designating certain streets as arteries through traffic and requiring all vehicles to come to a full stop before crossing or turning into such streets.

The ordinance probably will not be adopted before next spring, but the commission is publishing its plans at this time to give the public opportunity of becoming familiar with the arterial plan. Appropriate signs will be placed on the arterial thoroughfares and at all street intersections giving notice of stops and other directions. Violations of the regulations are to be punishable by a fine of $25 for first offense.

The City's Business

THE ENGINEER

(This is the sixth of a series of articles describing the duties and difficulties of Appleton's city officials.)

By L. A. Fisher
Probably no city office is so complex as the office of Appleton's city engineer. He is the engineer, surveyor, street commissioner, park commissioner, building inspector and weed commissioner, paidly ex officio and partly by special appointment. Whatever time he has left after discharging the duties of these offices is devoted to those as chairman of the water commission, secretary of the city planning commission and a member of the board of public works. All these branches of service are so closely allied that the council feels that they can best be handled by the engineer.

His is not a political office. It is rather that of an employed expert. He is appointed annually by the common council and need not even be a resident elector of the city. This provision was made in the general charter in deference to those cities that are lacking in local talent. A city never that has such an expert in its midst who knows the city clearly has the advantage.

KEEPS MANY RECORDS
As surveyor he surveys all sites and thoroughfares, keeps a record of all plats of lots, blocks and sewers embraced in the city limits. All profiles of streets, alleys, all drafts and plans relating to harbors and public property, marks the location of all survey stakes from which future surveys are to be projected.

It is his business as engineer to prepare all plans and specifications and estimate the expense of all public work ordered by the council for the erection of public buildings other than schools, their repair and improvement for the digging of new drains, laying of water mains, construction of bridges, streets and sidewalks. He also plans all replacements, repairs and resurfacing. The work itself is done by contract. Yet he is placed in supervision of all new work and permanent improvements. In direct he supervises the maintenance of the same. He also is in charge of the records of streets, paved buildings, erected mains, laid waterworks connections, made sewer dug and of all underground connections. He makes all special assessments against property owners for paving, grading, graveling, cinder, oiling, flushing, walk, building, sewer, drainage, weed cutting, snow shoveling and other special taxes.

CHARGE OF STREETS
As street commissioner he is placed directly in charge of the upkeep of the streets, alleys, public grounds, reservoirs, sewers and gutters. It is his duty to see that the necessary repairs are made by the crews supervised by foremen. The work of street sweeping, sprinkling, flushing, oiling and snow shoveling is done by his department. He is given special police powers to enforce the removal of nuisances such as snow, rubbish, refuse. Where the removals are not made he orders the work done by the street department and charged to the property owner as other taxes.

The engineer is ex-officio the building inspector who with the assistance of a plumbing inspector, electrician and chief of the fire department sees that the state building code and the city building regulations are enforced. To erect certain buildings other than residences requires a building permit. Fire hazards, defective construction, general safety conditions are some of the things to be investigated by him.

As park commissioner under the direction of the board of public works he is in control of the improvement and upkeep of all public parks. As weed commissioner he orders noxious weeds to be destroyed and in default of which causes it to be done by city employees and charges the work to the neglectful property owner. As secretary of the city planning commission of which he is ex-officio a member he is in constant touch with the city planning engineer and renders him assistance in the matter of city planning and zoning. O. F. Weissberger is the city engineer of Appleton and has been in the city employ since 1918. He is an Appleton bred man.

RAILROAD MEN OF THIS DISTRICT IN FAVOR OF STRIKE

Trackmen, Bridgemen, Flagmen
Complete Referendum on Walkout July 1

The railway trackmen, bridgemen and flagmen of Appleton district which extends from Oshkosh to Green Bay and from Kaukauna to Hortonville on the Northwestern road and from Appleton to Orono on the Soo line have forwarded their ballots to Chicago and it is said the vote was practically unanimous in favor of a strike July 1.

The maintenance of ways men in this district number more than 250. A ballot was sent to each individual who was given an opportunity to vote either for or against the strike. While a few ballots were sent direct to Chicago by voters, the majority passed through the hands of local union officers.

THE CHILD LABOR DECISION

The fault-finding of demagogues, especially of those who wish to influence the ignorant voter in order to serve their own personal interests, with the supreme court of the United States, because of its decision holding child labor laws not within the power of congress, is little short of contemptible. This criticism is not by persons who are themselves ignorant or unappreciative of the reasons given by the court for the invalidity of such legislation, but by such men as Senator La Follette and Mr. Gompers, who in their hearts know that the decision is perfectly sound.

Under the federal constitution two separate and distinct forms of government are recognized — one, government by the states, and another, government by congress and the president. Each of these governments has, under the constitution, distinct powers, which do not encroach upon each other. Congress is given certain defined powers of legislation. The constitution prescribes the particular subjects over which this power of legislation is given to congress. It is not permitted to legislate on any other subjects than those named in the constitution as assigned to it. This same constitution also reserves to the states the power to legislate on all other subjects not thus assigned or forbidden to congress.

This division of powers between the United States and the several states was the chief bone of contention between those who favored the adoption of the constitution and those who opposed it, when it was submitted to the original thirteen colonies for their ratification. The colonists were very jealous of surrendering to the general government any of the powers therefore possessed by them. It was only after they were convinced that it was the duty of the supreme court, under the constitution, to allow no usurpation of congress of legislative power which was reserved to the states, that the constitution was finally ratified.

One of the most difficult tasks which has confronted the supreme court, from the very beginning of this dual system of government, has been the prevention of encroachment by either congress or the states upon the field of legislation assigned to the other by the constitution. This was the task which confronted the court when the case involving the validity of the child labor law, enacted by congress, was brought before it for decision. There have been two such laws—both of which the supreme court has declared beyond the power of congress to enact. The court in both cases simply held that child labor is one of the subjects over which the constitution reserved to the states exclusive legislative power.

There can be little, if any, doubt of the soundness of these decisions. Most of the states have passed child labor laws of a very drastic character. Wisconsin is among the states which have asserted, in the most effective way possible, that the power to pass laws affecting child labor is reserved by the constitution to the states. How are these state laws to be justified, if the power of congress to pass such a law as the court declares invalid is recognized? The power is either with the states or with congress. It can not be with both. The court says it is with the states, and, therefore, that the law passed by congress is invalid.

This is sound sense in view of the provisions of the constitution. So long as the power to deal with the subject of child labor is not taken away but still remains, can anybody justly or reasonably complain that it is preserved to the states? Perhaps the states are better fitted to deal with that subject. The special needs of the people in that respect may be better known and more appropriately, dealt with by the legislatures of the states than by congress.

But quite regardless of whether the states or congress should have jurisdiction, these over-wise critics of the court care little as to the right or wrong of its decisions, so long as they are afforded an opportunity to appeal to popular prejudice or passion by criticism. They are very careful to keep concealed the reason given by the court for its decision. To them it seems of no importance that the court is right, if they can only hoodwink the uninformed into the belief that the court intended by its decision to favor wealth or the so-called interests. Justice, the right or the constitution makes no appeal to such demagogues. They seek to fool the people without regard to what the ultimate consequences may be. They only wish to make of the people their tools by which to work out their own personal interests.

UTILITY OF NIGHT SCHOOLS

For men and women who have to make their living by working in the daytime, or who decide after being at work to acquire technical knowledge, night schools have proved to be of incalculable utility. Probably better than anything else they have provided educational facilities to enable the average person to improve his or her circumstances.

The New York art student, Alfred Floegel, who won the valuable Prix de Rome, learned the English language and subsequently studied art in the night schools. In all likelihood he would have been forced to do house painting and would have been prevented from following his bent if the night schools had not given him the chance that he needed.

Many thousands of men and women have been just as fortunate as Mr. Floegel as a result of the facilities offered by these schools. The night school makes it possible for every person to secure an education if that person wants an education. It is hard to see how, under modern circumstances, they could be dispensed with.

KEEP YOUR EYES ON THE TARIFF

If a few great corporations or commercial groups procure monopolistic advantages in tariff duties, this cannot be of benefit to the whole public. It cannot be good for either of the two great parties.

The people, including business men and manufacturers, should keep their eyes on the tariff schedules. Otherwise, some patriotic groups will serve the country by obtaining rates which will give them full control of certain goods and the power to fix whatever prices suit their state of mind.

The tariff is a commercial proposition. Its purpose is to benefit all the people.

JAPAN'S PACIFIC POLICY

Taking official statements in complete faith, the present policy of Japan is indistinguishable from the American policy in international affairs. As Japan has given material evidences, such as the withdrawal of troops from Shantung, of peaceful intent, it is only fair to assume that official assertions are not mere diplomatic protestations.

Japan wants all nations to remove military troops from China. According to Sadao Sahuri, Japanese Charge d'Affaires in Washington, Japan will withdraw its soldiers from Siberia as soon as possible. There are three reasons, Sahuri explains, why Japan remains in arms in Siberia. First, to protect Japanese residents there; second, to hold back bolshevik propaganda at the frontier, and third assurance that Siberia will be opened to the commerce of all nations on equal terms. Here is something to think about seriously.

COL. HARVEY'S DECISION

Having experimented with the fashions prescribed by the etiquette of the court of St. James for more than a year, Col. Harvey, according to a London dispatch, "has decided that his legs are too thin, and he has abandoned the plush knickerbockers which have been a part of his court dress." A nation deeply interested in preserving good international relations will hope that the colonel's usefulness as a diplomat will not be impaired by his reluctant abandonment of those breeches and buckled shoes. It is hard enough for our government to find men suitable for diplomatic posts of the first order and, in addition to the requirements of brains and tact and private financial resources, an anatomical test of chapelle limbs should be demanded, the quantity of available diplomatic timber might diminish alarmingly.

The matter of court dress has always been a delicate problem for American envoys. But in a world made safe for democracy the question should no longer be as acute as it used to be. If it comes to the worst, Ambassador Harvey might remember his military title and show up in a colonel's uniform.—MILWAUKEE SENTINEL.

It's a hard life. If you live in the lowlands, the floods will get you; and if you live in the mountains, the revenue men will get you.—AKRON BEACON JOURNAL.

Colonel Harvey has acted wisely in returning to long breeches. He should never have let the world see that he didn't have a leg to stand on.—ARKANSAS GAZETTE.

FOR THE MEAGRE POOR

Since the girlish young man and boyish young man in short, that modern vagary which sociologists and artists describe as "the third sex"—how in sight, heralded and attended by the humorous artists who design fashion caricatures and who deem a straight line the easiest way between two points—the demand for my monograph on "How to Grow Fat Without Keeping Pigs" has declined almost discouragingly, whereas several editions of my other monograph on "Painful Pointers for the Complete Gastronomist" has been exhausted in rapid succession. As straight lines and angles replace the curves which formerly graced youth it appears that the world is divided into two camps, one of fat folks who are willing to do anything but fast or exercise in order to slough off the slackish flesh, the other of poor folks who heartily subscribe to the sentiment of the Pennsylvania Dutchman who, being apprised that he had a tapeworm, bade the doctor to bide awhile. "Well, let him alone, let him alone," he asserted. "I can eat more."

A considerable number of poor folks are meagre or spare because they eat too much and too hastily, failing to masticate their food properly, and eating morsels down partly masticated, with some beverage for good digestion, to masticate meals thoroughly; instead there is some reason to suppose that we digest meat better if we gulp it down in fairly sizeable morsels as all the carnivorous animals gulp their meat. But all the carbohydrates—the vegetable, fruits, cereals, and their derivatives, must be very completely masticated, as all the herbivorous animals chew their food, in order to insure good digestion and to prevent disturbances of the intestinal functions.

Persons who are underweight by reason of faulty intestinal digestion associated with intestinal stasis or too prolonged stay of the food residues in the intestines, and consequent toxemia (absorption of abnormal substances formed in putrefaction or other decomposition processes) are frequently relieved in all respects by a more liberal supply of vitamin B, the water soluble vitamin. This is supplied in various food substances, such as fish roe, wheat (as it comes from the threshing), whole flaxseed, of which a teaspoonful or two a day, or a mixture of wheat germ, sweetbreads, fresh eggs, liver and yeast. These food items (except yeast) are particularly useful when the skinny person is a slave of the physical habit.

In some long waisted individuals underweight over 30 a carefully fitted abdominal supporter improves digestion and causes a steady gain in weight.

Many persons under 30 who are underweight find that practicing a brisk system of general exercise for a few periods each day, on a normal diet, causes a gain of thousands of soft young men from offices and stores when they were called to the colors and given routing physical training. The added weight represented chiefly new muscle.

There is nothing better than a pint of fresh milk and a handful of crackers or some bread and butter or some cakes as a late bedtime lunch every night, to help the ordinary skinny put on needed weight.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Unhygienic Garmets

Is it injurious for a girl of 15 years who is just developing to wear brassiere? Mother wants me to wear one because she says it helps to make a nice figure. (Miss Fifteen.)

Answer:—If you hope to have a fine figure you had better not begin wearing supporters, splices, braces or other artifices. Train your own muscles in support you, by careful attention to your physical education. Make up your mind now, Miss Fifteen, to have a sound mind in a cultured body, and not a freak mind in an untrained body.

Swat the Hands

On one occasion I noticed in your column a formula intended to relieve "Uria's Heep trouble"—swat the hands. Would it be too much trouble for you to repeat that formula to oblige a lineal descendant of Uria's? I will be grateful for the favor. (Miss D. V. R.)

Answer:—Formalin—One half dram. Menthol—Two grains. Lanolin—Two drams. Petroleum—To make one ounce.

This should be placed in a collapsible tube. Rub well into the palms each night for a week or more. A pinch of salt a day.

Whole Wheat Versus Wheat Which Aint

Which contains the greater food value, estimated in calories, whole wheat bread or bread made from refined white flour. I know whole wheat bread is preferable because it contains vitamins which white bread lacks, but we have had an argument about the caloric values. (C. A. F. R. N.)

Answer:—Whole wheat bread contains more calories than white bread and is preferable to every point of view. Those who can't get whole wheat flour to bake more bread to keep, millers prefer not to supply it and dealers prefer not to stock it may readily purchase wheat from farmers or seed dealers or feed stores and grind it themselves. Many are doing so, merely for the appetizing flavor, aside from the nutritive and health features concerned.

Bookkeeper's calls

Please tell me how to rid myself of a callus which has been on my middle right finger for about five years due to pressure of the pen. (W. E. E.)

Answer:—I know of no way you can do so, unless by a change in the manner of holding the pen, so that no friction of pressure is made on the spot.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

JAPAN'S NEW PREMIER

The selection of Admiral Baron Kato, as the new premier of Japan is hailed by the American newspapers as an omen of great hope for the peace of the world. There is an unanimous endorsement of his liberal and peaceful views and he is looked to bring about vastly improved relationships between Japan and China. The fact that, as a delegate to the Washington conference on Limitation of Armament and Far Eastern problems, Kato aligned himself with the liberal element generally is referred to with praise and the editors express their confidence that all of the agreements then entered into will be carried out both in spirit and letter by Japan.

"The world may look with hope upon Kato's assumption of power," suggests the dayton NEWS, as "if there had not been a yielding to his high minded purposes in his own country, the Baron would not have agreed to assume office. He begins his administration with the whip hand." In addition his acceptance, the Cincinnati TIMES STAR believes, "probably means a good deal for the strengthening of the new friendship between our country and our country." Unless Kato work a mask too insubstantial for Yankee penetration while here, his attitude, now that he has the foreign relations of his country in his own hand, will mean a better understanding between the two countries than has existed for a long time." As the premier has "the substance and not the shadow of power," the MILWAUKEE SENTINEL argues that "peace diplomacy again has the upper hand," and adds that "if Kato can keep down militarism, he will prove a benefactor and liberator of his nation."

The MOBILE REGISTER considers it significant that at the time Baron Kato assumes the Premiership of Japan, Dr. Wu Ting Fang becomes premier of China, because "Kato and Wu form the leading elements in an international situation where the one will probably be the complement of the other. Both have practically the same end in view, and whatever they do will have some sort of reflection upon the country they represent." For one of Japan's leading statesmen is her attitude toward China, and China's chief concern is the treatment she is likely to receive from Japan. Kato's profession of peace policy, and Wu's known habit of mind on the same subject, give ground for hope that under their guidance, the vexed international relationship will at length obtain a just solution.

After reviewing Kato's views and record on Japanese international affairs the Newark NEWS suggests that "Kato at the head of the Japanese government, as claimed in the domestic affairs, but if he is a consistent progressive in holding down the power of militarism so that Japan shall keep her pledged word to the nations of the world, then he has no opportunity to clinch the hold he made on popular confidence when he was in Washington and win the glory of a firm capacious mind." The effect of his elevation will be noticeable in the United States, the Cleveland PLAIN DEALER is convinced, because "with Kato at the head of the Japanese government the Japanese in the United States will have a hard time to convince anyone of Japan's perfidy. Those who are best qualified to judge know that Admiral Kato is firmly convinced that Japan's own interests can better be conserved by fair play and open dealings than by chicanery, jingoism and callous disregard of the world's opinion." In the view of the Christian Science MONITOR "the cabinet changes at Tokio are a shifting of staff officers without change of policy at the head of the government. The gods of political reform in Japan grind fully as slowly as have been expected in the conservative East. However, there is not for that reason cause to believe that they grind any less small than in the West. The situation appears hopeful. Certainly, it is well worth watching."

The fact that Kato has assumed office as a "no-party" man leads the Detroit FREE PRESS to point out that "a strong party system in Japan means safety from a resurgemence in despotism. So whatever may be in Kato's mind, and it is difficult to believe that he is any less at heart except progress, he will stand for a no-party government which may be considered an evidence of liberalism in Great Britain where conditions are different, make him a legitimate object of suspicion, and uncertainty among his people. Whether the feeling of dissatisfaction will die down depends upon his general course as premier. Perhaps discreet procedure can overcome even the "no-party" handicap to public favor." But the Oakland TRIBUNE is convinced that Kato is far stronger than any other statesman in Japan and it believes that "he may be able to further in putting Japan in a happier position before the world than was possible under his predecessor, because he may handle the prevailing objections to the policy necessary to this end more effectively. But this remains to be observed." Because of his extreme frank attitude during his recent visit to Washington the Roanoke TIMES feels that "with Kato as premier there will be increasing confidence in the capitals of the world in the good intentions of the Japanese government."

Still because by acts governments are judged the New York TIMES argues that Kato will be judged on what he does in the Sino-Japanese case as "no one thing that the Kato ministry might do would so promptly raise Japan's standing in the public opinion of the world as an early and genuine withdrawal from Siberia." This also is endorsed by the Chicago TRIBUNE which recalls that Kato "is believed to have been influential in the Japanese decision to hurry the withdrawal of troops from Siberia. He seeks the friendship of China. He is a modern. The United States will welcome his ascendancy as it will welcome the improved prospects of better and more stable relations between Japan and the rest of the world which that ascendancy promises." Fully agreeing to this summary of what Kato is believed to stand for the Waterbury REPUBLICAN declares that, "everything considered, we may hope that Admiral Kato will be able to maintain his government."

The severe criticism at home of the new premier, the Utica PRESS is convinced is "because of his lack of affiliation with any party and because Japanese newspapers see in his election as premier a return to government without dependence upon a majority in the Diet," and it believes that, despite such criticism, "Japan's affairs are in competent and progressive hands." His elevation comes at a time when it will mean much to the Far East the Kansas City JOURNAL points out because "affairs in the Far East are slowly but surely molding themselves on a basis of solidarity. With Kato as Premier there is less probability that Japan will adopt a program inimical to Far Eastern peace. The influence of the Washington conference is being felt in many new places."

POINCARÉ'S DIFFICULTIES

Paris—The job of prime minister might be fairly agreeable if it weren't for dedicating monuments, laying cornerstones, and officiating at the million and one other ceremonies of the same type.

Poincaré, for example, had to receive the American medal at Verdun one day, and unveil the "Fellu" monument at Metz the next day. "The tremendous difficulty about a thing of this sort is finding something to say that won't sound as if it had been said fifty thousand times already. It is a delightful task, especially in France, where every hamlet has its monument to the war-heroes of 1914-18, and where almost every conceivable phrase appropriate to such an occasion has been repeated over and over again.

On such an occasion one is expected to speak with feeling, with emotion, with sentiments that sound fresh and alive. It is a tribute to the oratorical powers of our leading statesmen that they "got away with it" fairly well. But I do not doubt they spend many anxious hours saying to themselves, "What on earth can I say that won't sound flat and stale as a yesterday's pan cake?"

They realize that one must "watch one's step in many other directions. For example, at the Verdun ceremony Poincaré and Aristides Briand, the two photographed together as they walked through a cemetery with rank on rank of wooden crosses. The photograph showed them laughing, and produced a most incongruous effect.

Of course the socialist papers, who call the prime minister "Poincaré-Guerre" and accused him of being the instigator of the war, did not fail to publish this photograph of "the criminal who revisits the scene of his crime" and "laughs as he parades among the graves of his victims." Naturally Poincaré would give a good deal if that picture had not appeared, yet it doesn't really mean anything. One cannot keep a long face throughout the whole day. One must relax from time to time, even when strolling through a graveyard. The picture looks as if Mr. Herriek had just made a comical remark and was looking around to see how Mr. Poincaré took it. "The Frenchman, with the politeness for which his country is noted, laughed, although perhaps he did not see the joke, for his knowledge of English is sketchy. Or perhaps he laughed just to show that he did understand it.

Anyhow, in a careless moment he laughed, and so the papers call him a ghoul. If you are ever prime minister take care not to have any careless moments.

In the heat a Frenchman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of beer. The past few weeks have caused the amber fluid to displace the vermouth, bitters, quinquinas and other favorite mid-season drinks.

Two natives were sitting at adjacent tables before a cafe. One was cool and collected, and seemed to be enjoying the weather for all it was worth. He had a glass of vermouth before him, with a single sancer.

His neighbor was mopping his brow. He had unbuckled his vest, and crammed his handkerchief in his collar. Before him was a demi or biere blonde together with a stack of saucers representing a consumption of half a gallon.

It exasperated this gentleman to see his neighbor so comfortable. Finally he said: "Don't you suffer from the heat?" "No," replied the other, with an appreciative glance at his interlocutor's saucers, "I am a brewer."

SAVED BY FLOWERS

London—The Geneva correspondent of the Express says: "The Swiss members of the Alpine Club named Engel, aged twenty-four, survived a fall of nearly 500 feet from the summit of the Salève Mountain near Geneva, yesterday. He was saved by Alpine flowers. He struck patches of them during the fall, and finally landed in a field of narcissus.

Engel's comrades hurried to his bottom of the precipice expecting to see his mangled body, but found Engel sitting among the flowers making a cigarette. He was severely bruised, and was driven home in a motor-car which was covered with the Alpine flowers that saved him.

Legal Murders

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN

Innocent men have convicted themselves of murder. Having confessed to crimes which they did not commit, they have been declared "guilty" and sentenced to die. By a lucky turn some of them have been saved from the death penalty, but others—who knows?

The most famous of these cases is that of the Boorn brothers in Vermont.

Stephen and Jesse lived in Manchester together with a brother-in-law named Russell Colvin, who was a bit eccentric.

One day they had a quarrel and Colvin disappeared.

Months and years passed—and no explanation was made of the absence. The neighbors began to talk. Some of them recalled that the Boorns had said that they had put Colvin "where the potatoes would not freeze."

ABRIST BROTHERS

Children found a disfigured hat which was recognized as the one Colvin wore on the day of his disappearance. A dog dug up some bones. An uncle of the boys had a dream in which the missing man came to him and told of being murdered. A barn was mysteriously burned. Feeling against the brothers was aroused.

Stephen was out of the state, but Jesse was arrested.

In jail he confessed that his brother told him of killing Colvin with a blow on the head. Stephen was brought home. He denied his brothers statement. But it was used against him.

Both men were sentenced to be hanged.

The case seemed so hopeless that Stephen confessed the crime in the expectation of mercy from the court. It was of no avail. But Jesse's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

DENY CONFESSIONS

The brothers then told their attorney that their confessions were false. As a last resort, they began advertising in the newspapers.

A farmer in New Jersey read the item. He told a neighbor who recognized the published description as that of a man living with his brother-in-law in Dover.

He communicated with the lawyers. They found the man. It was Colvin. He was brought back just in time to save Stephen from the scaffold.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Will any considerable expense be involved in scrapping our naval vessels? L. E.

A. It has been estimated that it will cost $70,000,000 to scrap the fleet under the terms of the treaty. This estimate is preliminary and in no way final. No attempt has been made to compute the value of salvage from the vessels destroyed.

Q. How many parts is there in a watch? S. S. W.

A. A watch is comparatively a simple machine, containing an average of about 150 distinct parts. However, by actual count it has been found that the production of these parts requires over 3,700 separate operations.

Q. How much water is required per capita in the average city? J. E. N.

A. American hydraulic engineers in planning a water supply under present conditions, calculate upon the basis of a daily consumption of 100 gallons per capita, with provisions to meet an increased demand in the near future. For ordinary domestic purposes the requirements average 20 gallon per capita.

Q. What are the disadvantages of self-service stores? P. V.

A. Self service stores have relatively low operating expense, smaller investment in proportion to size of business, satisfy customers who want to handle their own prospective purchases, and make more rapid shopping possible. The disadvantages of self service are the possibility of theft, the fact that some customers prefer being waited upon, and that it is impossible to push certain goods that might be advantageous.

Q. What is meant by the light and dark of the moon? H. E. B.

A. The dark of the moon is that part of the lunar month when the moon is not visible. It may be considered as covering a period of approximately four days, two days before and two days after the time of the new moon. The rest of the lunar month may be called the light of the moon. These are popular expressions and are not susceptible to precise definition.

Q. Does the Government furnish free fish for ponds? J. J.

A. Fish ponds may be stocked through arrangements with the Bureau of Fisheries, Department of commerce, Washington, D. C.

Q. Why does a mackintosh rain coat bear that name? P. U. R.

A. The name "mackintosh" is derived from the name of the inventor, James Watson Mackintosh, a Glasgow engineer.

Q. How many times has lightning struck the Eiffel tower? H. E. B.

A. The Eiffel tower has been struck by lightning several times. The most recent strike was on June 10, 1922.

Q. How many times has lightning struck the Washington Monument? H. E. B.

A. The Washington Monument has been struck by lightning several times. The most recent strike was on June 10, 1922.

MEN BLIND TO WOMAN'S SUFFERING

How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain endured by women in their own household, and often without a murmur? They have no patience when the overworked wife and mother begins to get pale, have headaches, backaches, faint spells, or is melancholy and cannot sleep. There is help for every woman in this condition, as evidenced by the many voluntary letters of recommendation which we are continually publishing in this paper for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to give it a trial. adv.

Fur Talks By KISS

The foresighted woman attends to her fur repairing now so that she receives the double benefit of summer prices, which are lower, and the special attention which it is possible to give in a greater degree at this time. In addition, she avoids the possibility of disappointment when she wants her furs for winter.

Attention to storage should no longer be sidetracked, as during the warm weather furs require special attention and treatment.

WINNEBAGO COP GETS ANOTHER APPLETON MAN

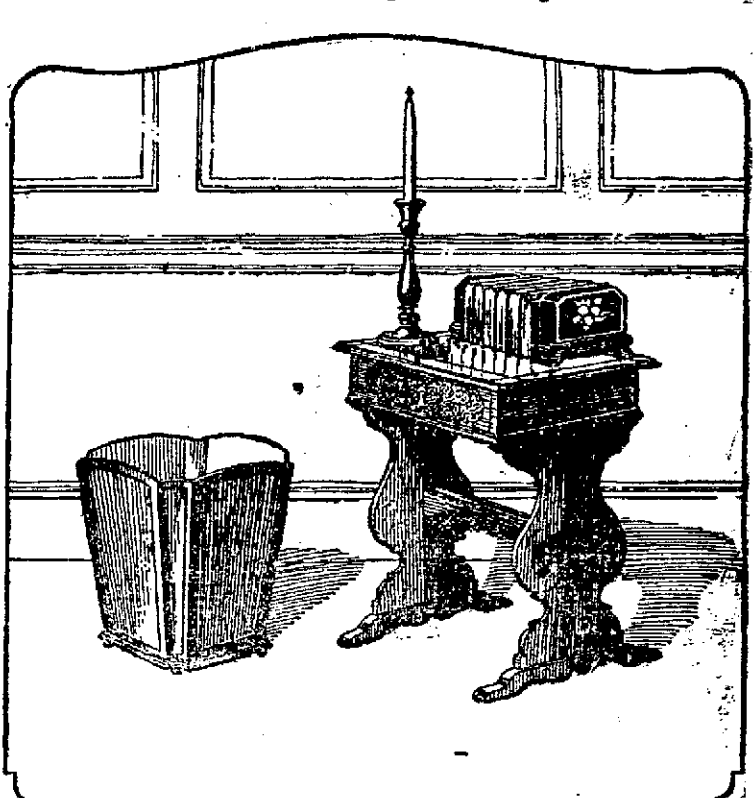

G. Demos of this city, was one of four automobile drivers arrested Wednesday on the Oshkosh-Fond du Lac road for speeding. Motorcycle Officer Plummer, who made the arrests, has caused 103 drivers to appear in court since April 1. All of those arrested in that time were speeding at 40 miles an hour or more. Mr. Demos paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Y. M. C. A. HONORS APPLETON YOUTH WITH TRIP ABROAD

Alden Behnke Is One of Less Than a Dozen Youths in U.
S. Highly Honored

Appleton, its Y. M. C. A. and one of its young men, Alden Behnke, all share in a national honor conferred by the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. It is the selection of Mr. Behnke as one of a group of seven to twelve youths who embark next summer on an educational tour to Europe.

Memberships of Y. M. C. A.'s all over the United States were ascribed for young men who were especially capable leaders among boys and who showed outstanding qualities of leadership. These boys are to be permitted to travel through Europe under the guidance of one of the international secretaries who "knows Europe like a book," and who will be able to gain access to all places of interest.

J. E. Dennison, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was asked to submit qualifications of a member whom he cared to recommend for the trip. He suggested Mr. Behnke and the record of the young man was such that a letter received from Arthur N. Cotton, of the boys' department of the International Y. M. C. A. committee, New York, announced his acceptance immediately.

The fortunate youth is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Behnke, 437 Eldorado. He was one of the highest rated pupils in high school during the last year and a leader in the boys' work of the Y. M. C. A. and in the First Congregational church. He is one of five chosen to have their names engraved on the "Y" emblem in the boys' division of the association for having the most contagious christian character and being one of the most ardent workers in the division.

The tour of places of importance in a number of the European countries will be made from July 1 to Sept. 3, 1923. Each young man pays his own traveling expenses but has the advantage of an experienced tourist's guidance as well as the prestige of the Y. M. C. A.

Soon To Launch Contest For Amateur Cameramen

Prizes Will Be Given for Best Views of Appleton's Buildings and Scenes

Amateur photographers may start clicking their little black boxes any time now taking pictures of Appleton scenes and buildings, because Appleton Advertising club and the chamber of commerce will spring details of their joint picture contest almost any day.

A few finishing touches need to be put on the requirements and contest plan, after which the compiling of views will be gotten under way. It is expected to be a most interesting race, and of invaluable service in helping the city to obtain good advertising matter.

The object will be to collect the finest lot of views obtainable of every place or building in Appleton that will display Appleton's advantages as a city, industrial, educational, commercial, recreational, rural, or any other. Prizes will be given for the best pictures in any group. Every one may enroll in the contest and pictures taken in the past will be accepted as well as those obtained now. These pictures will be used on a new set of souvenir postal cards, not the ordinary commercial kind, but a series in the coloring natural to the places, and painted by skilled artists. They also will be used in future booklets describing the city, and in other publicity matter.

MEET MONDAY TO HEAR COMPLAINTS ON ASSESSMENTS

Boards of Review of Towns and Villages Ready for Assessment Kicks

Town and village boards of review in Outagamie-co. will hold their meetings in town and village halls next Monday, June 26 for hearing and adjusting of complaints relative to assessments. The town and village assessors have practically completed their work and taxpayers may learn from them what their assessments are before appearing before the board.

The board of review is not empowered to change the assessor's figures except on the sworn testimony of persons who appear before it in relation to assessment, but the board may correct errors in description of property or otherwise. This does not preclude the right of persons to appear before the board and obtain information that may be used in comparison with other property. Not only have taxpayers the right but they are encouraged to do so, according to John A. Lonsdorf, supervisor of assessors. The assessor gains his knowledge of property value largely from the public, it was said.

No person will be allowed in any action in court to question the valuation of any personal property assessed to him, unless in person or by agent he comes before the board of review and in good faith presents evidence in support of his objections and make full disclosure before the board under oath of all his personal property subject to assessment.

Why Bother About Cost If Freckles Can Be Covered

Have you noticed the lack of freckles on milady's face this season? If there is one, it is due to two things, the amount of freckle cream which the young women, and those who are not so young, use and the amount of rouge and powder which they use to cover up the natural beauty of their skin.

According to cold cream purveyors, summer time sees a marked increase in the amount of cosmetics purchased by women. Cold creams to prevent sun and wind burn and to ease that which has been acquired is bought in large quantities. So called foundation for powder in order that the whitening will stay in place on the face. (That is the idea, isn't it girls?) Now you would think that when they go in swimming so often, that they would lay off the lip stick, the rouge and the eye brow pencil, but it is not so. Because the water ruins the effect, more has to be purchased and applied more often during the day and on into the night. And you would think that with the constant mopping of the brow in the intense heat, that the use of an eyebrow pencil would be dangerous lest part of the eyebrow run down onto the cheek or up into the hair. With care and plenty of pencilling, this can be avoided, so we are told.

But about the freckle cream, yes, many of them use it from early spring through the summer. It is supposed to remove the unsightly blotches and maybe it does, but they work at it hard as hard as can be. They must have lovely faces, cost the cosmetics what they may.

SUNDAY IS THE FINAL WIND-UP OF THIS GREAT USED CAR SALE

From the opening moments of the sale down to the time this advertisement goes to press our showrooms have been one constant scene of activity. From every conceivable point buyers have come to examine the values and a goodly number have driven away cars. It is impossible to convey anything like an accurate idea of the values on hand—all we can say is: If you intend to buy an automobile, come here to this sale. You will find a car to suit you at the right kind of a price.

FOR THE WIFE AND KIDDIES

Don't deprive them any longer of the joys, comforts and conveniences of a car. It means MORE HAPPINESS, BETTER HEALTH for them, and wonderful times you'll have driving out in the country, going on trips and picnics—then think, too, of the BIG HELP a car will be to your business.

EVERY CAR YOU SEE ON STREET IS A USED CAR

Your banker, your doctor, your attorney, the big and little men of the business field, all drive used cars. Just the moment a new car is placed in the hands of a user it becomes a used car. Many of the cars we have on hand are still in the finest kind of condition, both from the standpoint of appearance and mechanically.

Any Cash or Time Offer in Reason Will Buy Any Used Car

What kind of a car do you want? Small car—large car—closed car. No matter what kind of a car you like, it is here and at less money than you will ever buy the same quality for again, and Sunday is your last chance.

INVADE CITY TO ENFORCE STATE FIREWORKS LAW

Inspector for Industrial Commission Is Inspecting Appleton Stores

Business houses in Appleton dealing in fireworks were visited Thursday by Harry S. Schreiber, of Oshkosh, inspector for the Wisconsin industrial commission to find out if the new regulations relative to fireworks were being complied with.

No violations had been found by Mr. Schreiber up to Thursday afternoon, but two or three in Neenah were reported to the commission the day previous, and will be subject to prosecution.

The only fireworks which dealers may have in their place of business are sparklers, colored fire used in theatricals, and torpedoes such as used by railroad men. All other explosives of this kind may be carried for sale only if they are displayed or stored in buildings 200 feet away from all others. The requirement usually prevents sale of firecrackers and other fireworks.

Sparklers and Roman candles may not be discharged within 500 feet of any building, Mr. Schreiber said.

The industrial commission is determined that the fireworks laws shall be enforced strictly this year. All inspectors therefore have been taken away from other work and are spending two weeks visiting every place in Wisconsin and reporting all violations.

Appleton wanted to know more about these regulations, and obtain the information from your fire chief, George P. McGowan. Mr. Schreiber said.

CLERK FLOODED WITH LICENSE APPLICATIONS

This is the time of the year when applications are made for license to sell cigarettes and non-intoxicating beverages, concert pool and billiard parlors. License issued July 1, 1921 will automatically expire July 1, 1922. Applications are filed with E. L. Williams, city clerk and licenses are awarded by the common council. At the last meeting 27 proprietors of saloons and 12 proprietors of pool and billiard parlors were awarded licenses. Canteen licenses are obtained from the city clerk.

GEORGIA PLANS 1926 WORLD FAIR

A world's fair in the state of Georgia in 1926.

This is the latest bid project to be carried on the country, as indicated by copies of the Atlanta Constitution received at the chamber of commerce. The plan is to make the site of a world's fair similar to those held in 1893 and an observance of the one-hundredth anniversary of ocean sailing.

It is the aim of the promoters to have the fair arranged in sections in various parts of the state of Georgia. The main building will be at Savannah, the port from which the first ocean steamer sailed.

Farmers Getting Market Reports By Radio Phone

The modern farmer receives his most comprehensive service for all weather reports by radio. Howard Eberhard, who lives on Spencer rd. in Grand Chute, not only listens for the daily weather predictions, but also lets passers-by have the benefit of them. The traveler will find attached to Mr. Eberhard's mail box placards such as: "Warmer Today," "Fair Tomorrow," "Rain in part of the state."

The noonday broadcast of market reports is especially great in service as it gives the farmer the shipping season when the rest of Wisconsin will be discontinued time to ship means more to the farmer.

MENASHA FIXES FEE FOR MOTOR BUSES

The Menasha city council Tuesday evening voted to levy a license on bonded motor carriers operating in the city and to and from Appleton and Neenah, fixing the fee at $25 per year for each bus. The action it was said is tentative and can be changed to form a joint agreement between the cities of Appleton, Menasha and Neenah regarding motorbus regulation. Mayor M. M. Schoetz announced that he had held a formal conference with the mayors of Appleton and Neenah at which the adoption of uniform license fees and regulations was discussed. A C. Homan, owner of the Appleton Neenah bus line is said to have agreed to the fee set by the Menasha council.

SMITH COMING MONDAY TO WORK ON CITY PLAN

Leonard S. Smith, city planner will arrive in Appleton Monday from Madison to continue his work in preparing the city plan authorized by the common council last year. Mr. Smith has made good progress in the preliminary work such as making surveys and gathering statistics and expects to shape up the project rapidly. Mrs. Smith expects to accompany her husband and will remain here for the summer.

Had Your Iron Today?

That Delicious Bread —of Energy and Iron

SERVE raisin bread twice weekly on your table for three reasons:

1. Flavor; 2. Energy; 3. Iron

You remember how good a generously filled, full-fruited raisin bread can be. Your grocer can supply a loaf like this.

Insist—if he hasn't one he can get it for you.

Full-fruited bread is full of luscious seeded Sun-Maid raisins—rich in energizing nutriment in practically pre-digested form.

Raisins also furnish fatigue-resisting iron for the blood.

Serve plain raisin bread at dinner or as a tasty fruited breakfast toast with coffee.

Make delicious bread pudding with left-over slices. No need to waste a crumb of raisin bread.

Begin this week the habit of raisin bread twice weekly in your home, for raisin bread is both good and good for you.

The Race Victory at INDIANAPOLIS The Road Victory at WICHITA Help You Choose Tires

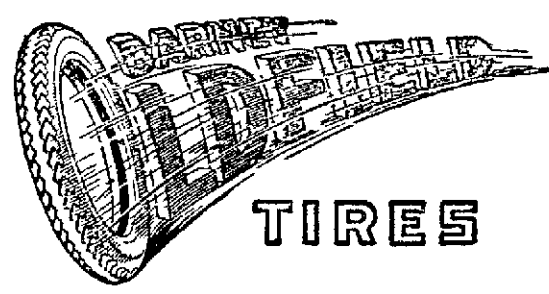

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the gruelling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence successful race drivers have in the trustworthiness and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

34,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the gruelling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

165% Increased Business
The buying public is the surest barometer of the value of any article. Their approval of Oldfield value has been demonstrated by the increase of 165% in business for the first five months of 1922 over the corresponding period of 1921.

GREENVILLE BOYS MAY LOSE CAR USED TO DELIVER BOOZE

Young Men Admit Transporting Liquor and Are Held in County Jail

A booze ship was anchored on Lake at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, when signaled by two policemen, and as a result Roy Schroeder and Albert Tellok, two Greenville young men, are in the county jail awaiting sentence for transporting intoxicating liquor in their Ford automobile. The police seized the car and the cargo which amounted to about 10 pints of moonshine whisky. They were arraigned in municipal court Friday morning and pleaded guilty. Judge Spencer ordered them to be held in the county jail pending further investigation. Sentence probably will be passed Monday.

One speeder also was arraigned. Ed. Indberg admitted driving on the public thoroughfares of Grand Chute at a rate of more than 30 miles an hour and paid the regular fine of $10 and costs.

GRANGE PICNIC TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Appleton business men and others who will attend the annual picnic of South Greenville Grange at Haase grove, near Greenville Saturday are to assemble at the chamber of commerce office at 11 o'clock in the morning with their automobiles.

It is expected that a large delegation of local persons will take advantage of the grange invitation to attend the outing. It will open with a program in the morning by the children, and with speeches and amusements in the afternoon.

The Rev. Paul O. Keicher and Lee C. Rasey of this city are to be among the speakers.

BICYCLE RIDERS MUST KEEP OFF SIDEWALKS

Some of these days persons who ride bicycles on the sidewalk in violation of the law will be taken by surprise and escorted to the police station by a corps of officers who are contemplating a move of this kind. "We are getting many complaints about riding bicycles on the sidewalk," Capt. P. J. Vaughn, acting chief says. "This practice must be stopped or we will be obliged to arrest the offenders. The roads are in good shape and nobody has any excuse for using the sidewalks now."

U. S. PLANS RETURN OF ALIEN PROPERTY

The objection to this has been the fact that many persons with small amounts of property were being made to suffer unnecessarily. The compromise plan which was worked out by Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, and now is approved by the president would with the consent of congress give to German nationals all property under ten thousand in value and on large estates at least ten thousand dollars. The prospects are that the owners of the large estates will not wish them divided so as to get ten thousand dollars and will decline to accept the ten thousand dollars preferring to keep their estates intact. The president has followed almost entirely the recommendations of Col. Miller, who for months has been recognizing the office of the alien property custodian. It cannot be said, however, that a permanent policy has yet been evolved for until congress approves the legislation being drafted by Colonel Miller and the departments of state and justice and some idea is obtained of the attitude of the German government. It is estimated that thirty million dollars worth of property returned, the whole subject will be more or less in abeyance.

WOULD BE EASIER ON ENGLISH WIVES

London—Another step has been taken in the direction of securing for wives equality of treatment with husbands so far as the law is concerned. The house of commons has given a second reading to the "Separation and Maintenance Order Bill" to give it its cumbersome official title. It is designed to straighten some matrimonial tangles and remove various matrimonial infelicities which are largely attributed to the fact that in many ways the law does not treat the sexes alike.

As the law now stands, according to the sponsor for the bill, Sir Robert Newman, a wife who wishes to prove cruelty against her husband has to leave home first, and she is torn between fear of him and fear of abandonment her children in his charge. Under the provisions of the bill a wife while still living with her husband would be able to take him to the police court for a maintenance order, produce a letter from his employer, stating his earnings, obtain a ruling from the magistrate laying down the proportion of the wages to which she is entitled, and then take the husband home again.

Fire Makes Ten Thousand Homeless

Just one little strip of the area covered by a fire that destroyed more than 400 buildings, made 10,000 homeless, among them 150 inmates of an orphanage, and injured 60 at Arverne, Long Island. The fire swept from Jamaica Bay to the Atlantic Ocean. Dynamiting prevented its spread to the famous Rockaway resorts.

ASKS AMERICA TO AID SUFFERING OF NEAR EAST PEOPLE

Many are Dying From Starvation and Disease in War Wreathed Countries

By Associated Press
Chautauqua, N. Y.—America should accept her present magnificent opportunity for leadership in the near east and not take shelter behind a mistaken plea for isolation. Dr. Arthur E. Bestor said to a large audience of American club women now gathered together at Chautauqua.

"Our home problems are not so complicated and difficult," the speaker declared, "that we have not enough strength, enough money or enough men and women to continue our influence and our leadership where it is so much needed and so much desired."

Dr. Bestor, who is president of the Chautauqua Institution was addressing the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. His speech had to do with a recent trip through Europe and the Eastern Mediterranean. He dwelt at length upon the high estimation in which Americans are held in the near east and praised the work of the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association and the American Relief Administration.

Referring to the political situation Dr. Bestor said:

"There are certainly many reasons for pessimism. As yet there is no peace in Europe or in Asia. Everywhere one sees military establishments and great numbers of soldiers. Then there is the loss of men and of productivity. In the Lebanon alone over 300,000 people died of starvation and typhus and other results of the war. One half of all the males in Serbia between 15 and 60 died during the war. Every where there are untitled fields and devastated areas because men are not available for their cultivation and their clearing. There is everywhere universal debt and men and women wonder not whether they will ever be released from these burdens but whether their children may ever expect to be free. There are direct tariff barriers everywhere. Except in England there is hardly a balanced budget in any country which was engaged in the war. There are difficulties over reparations. The exchange is in such a chaotic state that it is either so high that no one can buy from you or so low that you cannot buy from anyone else. Yet there are 100,000,000 people in Europe who must live by the export trade. When one analyzes and reviews these conditions there is every reason for a feeling of discouragement and pessimism for the immediate outlook. But this is only one side of the picture. There are many indications of a sincere desire to find a better way of settling these difficulties of economic struggles. They sincerely want peace and the opportunity of working out political, social and economic salvation."

The speaker then explained why Great Britain and France in his opinion could not give education and inspiration to this part of the world and keep order in these unsettled areas and he laid emphasis on the idea that he was not advocating man dates for the United States.

WOULD TAKE SULTAN TO WORSHIP IN AUTO

Constantinople—Anxiety for the safety of the Sultan of Turkey has prompted the local authorities to consider the substitution of a closed American automobile for the time-honored open barouche in which the head of Islam every Friday is borne to prayer from the Yildiz Palace to his private mosque. This public "going to prayer" ceremony has existed from the time of Mohammed and is one of the few remaining royal spectacles to be witnessed in Europe today.

Every Friday at high noon thousands of the faithful, as well as hundreds of foreign visitors, flock to the outskirts of Constantinople to witness the Turkish potentate followed by a dignified entourage riding in a gilded carriage to do honor to Allah. Thronged with Turkish soldiers, sailors, firemen and policemen line the curbside and guard with alert and furtive eyes "the sickest man in Europe."

Some of the palace officials feel that their sacred Caliph is too exposed to attack by evildoers and they have suggested that the old-fashioned slow moving carriage be replaced by a speedy closed limousine, which will afford greater protection.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Reineck have returned from an automobile trip to Des Moines. On their return they stopped at Rochester, Minn., to visit the Mayo clinic. They were gone for more than a week.

SILVER RUBLES ARE COINED BY SOVIETS

Mint Which Has Been in Operation Several Months Has Coined 5,000,000 Rubles

By Associated Press

Petrograd—New silver money which in time the Soviet government hopes to put in circulation to replace partly at least, the paper ruble of today is being coined in the Petrograd mint, the only existing plant of its kind in Russia.

The mint began operating several months ago, up to the present time it has manufactured 5,000,000 rubles in silver of denominations of 10, 15, 20, 50 copecks and 1 ruble pieces. The coins contain ninety percent silver and ten percent copper and in appearance are much the same as those in use before the war. Close inspection, however, shows that the Soviet coat of arms has replaced the old imperial eagle. Another striking feature is the Bolshevik motto "Proletariat of the world unite on the reverse side. The new coins are sent to Moscow where they are held as part of the government reserve. When a sufficient quantity has been assembled the government contemplates using them as a form of guarantee for paper money to be issued in the future. Ultimately it is hoped to put them generally in circulation and thus obviate the present necessity of calculating in billions and millions for the needs of every day life.

On Wings of Wireless

ARTHUR B. REEVE

©1922 NEA Service, Inc.

The flight to Seattle was only a matter of minutes for there was no time to lose before darkness.

At Seattle a hasty survey disclosed no sign of the "Bacchante," but there was a tremendous crowd down on a hillside and hear their shouts. Dick brought the radioplane down to the water and a couple of small motor boats put out.

"We've got that Curtis and the Larue girl!" shouted a man with a big brass star of the local police force on his chest.

Dick glanced at Garrick. "Anchor here. We must take the time. We must give them the third degree."

Curtis was sour. Rae nervously triumphant. They had been deserted, put ashore, double-crossed. Was it possible that they, too, were merely tools of the man-at-the-top? Who was it then? Georges had been eliminated and was in his mouth sealed. Brock was out of the way, a lonely prisoner ready to turn state's evidence to save his miserable hide. Who, then? Where was Ruth?

In spite of her capture, Rae looked happier than she had been for days. She was holding on to Jack's arm with the air of possession that seemed to compensate for everything. Curtis did not look so pleased. He was thinking of the vanishing fortune and the frolic he saw glimmering away in the past.

Suddenly Rae shook his arm. "Dreaming of those hussies? Jack, you're mine—I can't let anyone have you—even when I'm playing the game. These damsel have ditched us! We might better have stayed in our own class. There's good pickings in the chacharets! Lord knows what will happen now. Here's that Garrick—and Dick. I could tear the eyes out of the whole smart bunch—especially Ruth Walden. I never trusted her—she's too smart."

As Garrick and Dick came up, Curtis had his cue from Rae. A clean breast was the next best thing to a clean get-away.

"Talk about Kidd and Morgan and Blackbeard!" he exclaimed in anxious disgust. They were piker pirates! They plundered their pals. I've read. Well, so did this beast—and he carried off a girl, too, a ten-million dollar prize."

Garrick shot question after question. "Why, the 'Bacchante' was a floating pleasure machine, a floating pleasure machine, the 'Bacchante'—the stuff from a score of others. There was money, oh, I don't know how much, the profits of the bootleg scheme, of looting wine cellars all over the island, of the Inner Circle." Jack swore as he thought of the massed wealth from which he had been "defrauded."

"Why was the 'Bacchante' here?" demanded Garrick.

To take him off he came across by car from the Radio Central, as soon as he got me—damn him—with the boat into the open ocean, safe—Professor Vario, of course."

"Professor Vario?" echoed Dick in amazement.

"Yes, Professor Vario, head of the biggest gang of bootleggers, black-mailers and dress-suit frogman I guess you ever heard of. Teh—Georges was the fellow pulled 'em in. Brock was the roughneck—Rae and I were the decoys—Ruth, Vira, Glenn and the others were their cover. Damned his eyes!"

"Doesn't it explain the robberies? To amass a small fortune, of course. That guy was born money-hungry—and girl-crazy! I know his game. He dragged me into his dirty work—fool that I was—then he expected all the time to come along at the right time, posing as a hero to Ruth, rescuing her from me. Then to Bermuda, the Bahamas, Martinique, anywhere—I don't know. Only I do know now that Vario intended all along to marry that girl—and get ten millions!"

"Explain!" echoed Garrick. "It explains a lot of things. For instance, at the Binnacle, what really happened was that you, Jack, double-crossed Vario and tried to get away with Ruth yourself, and he caught you. It just gave him his first chance to play hero, eh? Curtis nodded sullenly. "And the night of the diagraph. With his wave meter, Vario discovered it, found that all his secrets were being spilled in the air, and jammed in on diagraph wave length."

Jack listened as if it was the clanking of a chair. He was afraid of Garrick. "Then that broadcasted poison pen message. First Vario had allowed you to get Ruth into a dangerous position at the Binnacle from which he rescued her and played hero. Then this elopement story, to compromise her. But he had you right where he wanted you. How? The bigamy charge, of course!"

Rae was now blazing. She might battle Jack. No one else could. She would perjure her little soul but she would fight him clear.

"Do you know the conclusive thing?" Garrick turned to Dick. "That postcard, about last night at the Radio Central told me something. How did my alarm fall? You know, Dick, there's a switch between the studio room and the actual sending apparatus upstairs—not that switch we saw before us, but another. They use it whenever anyone broadcasting tries to put over a bit of advertising or chicanery or if the singer or speaker is rotten, swing the switch and put on a phonograph or something. A million explanations will do, later. The point is that he learned that I was there, found out what I was doing and choked it off—there by betraying himself. He has been under cover ever since and this is the first information I've had of him all day—although, without letting Dick or anyone else know of my junction, I had private detectives and the police looking for him quietly." He nodded toward one of the Astra men with the policeman in the crowd when Dick had not seen. Then to the man, "How long before we came did you get those people?"

"Not ten minutes, sir."

"And the 'Bacchante' when you did it head?"

"We must have got a motorboat somewhere, put out to it the minute it hove in sight, then sent these people ashore after a fight or something. I should say it headed south-east—by east."

"Come—Dick!"

"Just a second, Guy. Whose hat was it? Rae, that held the jewels at Gerard's?"

"Mine, of course." Defiantly.

"And what was in the tower with the searchlight at Gerard's that night?"

"Ruth and Glenn. This was spiteful. We threatened them. But it was the last time."

"And why were the Walden pearls returned?"

"It was his idea, Vario's—to involve her, tie her up tighter, so she wouldn't dare squeal."

They jumped into the motorboat and a few minutes later the whirling of the propellers and the screams cutting of the spray gave them another leap off into the air.

"They've a twenty-minute start," shouted Garrick, adjusting his headgear in the rush of air. "Thank heaven for the light. What a sunset!"

Dick flew by his compass in the direction the Astra man had indicated, then began a series of ever widening horizontal loops. It decreased his direct distance, but it enabled him to cover a wider range in case Vario had turned the course of the 'Bacchante' when he got out of sight of land.

Fast as the scout cruiser was it could not compete with Garrick's speed. Garrick, with his eyes glued to a glass with splendid German lenses, swept the sea.

Dick depressed his altitude and they swung along until shortly with the naked eye could be made out a boat which was without doubt the 'Bacchante' far out at sea.

As they watched, it deliberately turned and headed back toward them. Garrick trained the glass toward it. What did it mean?

"By Heaven!" he exclaimed. "What's that smack between us and him? Can it be someone—swimming? My God—it is—it is Ruth!"

Could it be that Ruth had seen and taken a last long chance, that she had gone overboard, risking everything on a Marathon swim, at that hour, with not a chance in a million of making the shore?

As the radioplane came nearer the water and nearer the struggling swimmer it became evident that the race between the plan and the cruiser was a losing one for the cruiser.

"Here, Guy, take this plane. I'll take the radio."

Garrick seized the other of the double set of controls. A moment later he had taxied in spray and was rocking and pitching only a few feet from the swimmer. It was ticklish business for he maneuvered until he was able to swing about. Fortunately the sea was comparatively calm.

As for Ruth, she was still fresh. Her long-distance swimming counted now in the balance for her life.

As Garrick with a final effort with Dick, dragged her aboard she almost collapsed in Dick's arms.

"Take care of her, Guy, for a minute!" Dick turned to his radio apparatus and as he did so Garrick saw that the 'Bacchante' long before she was beaten, had turned and was going away at top speed.

"There!" Dick swung a switch. A little light gleamed overhead. Another signal overhead changed. "Go!"

Like a bolt flew the arrangement overhead, a long torpedo-like affair of aluminum with wings and pontoons for all the world like the hydro-aeroplane on which they were.

It was flying, with the buzz of a hornet!

Dick pressed a lever. It swung in its flight.

"The principle of the thing is that I use Hertzian waves to actuate rays on the radioplane—that is, I send a child with a message. The grown man through the relay, so I can sit here and send my little David anywhere to strike down 'Gibberish'!"

In the sunset Vario on the 'Bacchante' must have seen it, sensed it for he knew something of Dick's work. He changed his course. Instantly Dick pulled a lever and the radioplane changed its course by exactly the same degree. It was like a conscience pursuing.

They could not see Vario beside the man at the wheel. He had his revolver, whether to intimidate the man or not, could not be determined.

At the hornet swooped straight at him, however, he fired once, twice, three times at it. No marksmanship of Vario's could stop that thing. He seemed to realize it. For an instant he hesitated, then quickly turned the gun on himself—and fired.

As Vario sank to the deck, Garrick nerved himself for the explosion of the radioplane. To his amazement the little thing dived like a wasp, turned and started back.

"They'll stand by, now," muttered Dick. "Not a reason in the world then to send the little treasure ship to Davy Jones'!"

It was late and dark when the 'Bacchante' limped up and cast anchor off the Seattle wireless station towing Defoe's radioplane and its mother flying boat.

Nita Walden had been sitting for hours in her car by the beach in front of the station, her eyes glassy, staring over the waters. She was shivering with fear. "Will they never come back? Oh, Ruth, Ruth, Ruth!"

Suddenly she saw a slim, dripping figure of a girl running up the beach. She wanted, asked her. "My Ruth—my Ruth!" She pulled the curly head down to her and sobbed, joyously. "And she's promised to revise the ceremony—and put the word 'obey' back again—only I don't expect her to do it!"

Through her tears and hysterical sobs Nita Walden saw Dick and Garrick just behind him. She opened her arms and drew Dick toward herself and Ruth.

"I suppose I may have the job of detective watching the wedding presents," laughed Garrick.

"Really, mother, Guy saved me—you might say—on wings of wireless!"

Nita Walden spread her arms farther, caught Garrick's coat, drew him over, as the tears trickled down her face and planted a kiss on his cheek.

Garrick took her arm. "Nita, for your sake as well as Ruth's, done into the station. We ought to broadcast the truth. They'll fix up a little bite to eat, too—maybe a toast!"

He glanced over at Dick, as Ruth struggled away from his lips.

"May I—may I—broadcast our announcement, Ruth?" pleaded Dick.

Ruth sank back in his arms. "Yes, Dick... I'll tell the world!"

BEACH SUITS OF FUR HARK BACK TO CAVEWOMAN DAYS

No Limit to What You Can Spend for Furrier's Latest Creations

By Marian Hale

We have with us to day the modern version of the ancient cave woman. She lives not in a cave, but on the beach.

Recently some designers, a furrier we suspect, realized the picturesque aspect of the prehistoric woman's garb and has used as a model for the season's sartorial sensation—the fur bathing suit!

Doubtless you have struggled along several seasons without a sable swimming suit and unless your family budget warrants an expenditure of several thousands, you can do so again but if you wish the very latest—here it is.

The why of the fur bathing suit eludes me. Why one should sweater under a fur coat on a hot day or swim in weather so cold as to warrant one is beyond me. But reason and style do not always walk hand in hand.

At a fashionable beach not many miles from New York living models parade the beach each day wearing fur bathing suits.

These are cut on the popular lines—the silk and wool variety and are made up in popular furs of the season.

Ermine, which is not nearly so costly as it is used to be is very fashionable. Sometimes it is combined with seal, the combination of black and white against the blue sky and water, being greatly admired.

Some snappy little suits of leopard skin made up very much like ballet costumes with a bodice and shoulder straps are very reasonable—only a hundred dollars.

Moleskin lends itself admirably to the season's modes. So does squirrel and kolinsky.

Six or eight hundred dollars will buy you a very nifty little suit of fur which to medium priced furs, but if you have sable leavings, then there is no limit to what you can spend.

LIGHT HOUSE CAN CARE FOR ITSELF

London—A self-lighting lighthouse is the latest device to be erected by the Board of Trade to warn navigators of the proximity of danger.

One has been installed at Barry, Gower, on the Swansea coast and has given entire satisfaction. It lights itself when it gets dark and extinguishes itself when daylight returns. It requires no attention from keepers. So completely automatic is its action that it needs no care except from time to time to fix its chemicals, and each of its gas tanks hold supplies sufficient for two years. Its lamp is comparatively small but emits a very powerful and far-penetrating light.

THE STAGE

Mary Without a Curl

That in itself makes "Tillie" a novelty. The beautiful blond tresses of Mary Miles Minter have pleased the eye of millions everywhere and are as well known as Volstead—and ever so much more popular.

But curls alone don't make an actress. And so it is that in "Tillie" adopted from the novel "Tillie" a Menomonee Maid" by Helen R. Martin, Mary Miles Minter is seen with absolutely straight hair, and with clothes that are positively ugly.

The public will agree that Mrs. Minter has attempted one of her most difficult impersonations in that of a wistful little drudge in a Menomonee colony who lives a story replete with pathos, humor and drama—a story different from the general run of motion pictures.

"Tillie" will be shown two days only Friday and Saturday.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is AMBIGUOUS. It's pronounced—am big u-ous with accent on the second syllable. It means—doubtful, uncertain, capable of being understood in more than one way.

It comes from—Latin "ambigere," to wander about.

It's used like this—"Recent rulings by the United States Commerce Commission have been criticized somewhat on the ground that they are ambiguous."

Jesus, the Nazarene, taught that some would never die. John 11:26. When will this be? Hear Alfred Smith of Milwaukee at the B.I.O.U., Friday, June 23, 7:45 P. M. Free!

MRS. LIUBOFF MOURUMSKY VONSIATSKY WHO CLAIMS TO BE THE LEGAL WIFE OF ANASTASE VONSIATSKY VONSIATSKOY (BELOW) WHO RECENTLY MARRIED THE FORMER MRS. MARION REAM STEPHENS' CHICAGO HEIRESS (LOWER LEFT)

Philadelphia — Long distance love has stirred up a lot of trouble for "V."

A wife in Philadelphia and another in Paris—she says she is his wife—are just one too many to suit the Russian Orthodox Church.

Durning love letters and a marriage license written in Russian have been turned over to the authorities to prove that Anastase Vonsiatzky Vonsiatzky's legal wife isn't Mrs. Marion Ream Stephens. V. V. the Chicago heiress to $40,000,000 whom he married in New York a few months ago.

The claimant is Mrs. Liuboff Mourumsky Vonsiatzky, now in Paris.

She married V. V. when he was an anti-Bolshevik officer in Yalta, Crimea, in 1920, according to the documents she turned over to the American embassy in Paris.

Chapter 68 — A Question of Right and Wrong

By a Bride

"With $300 I can pay all those bills and give Jack his original safety fund," I thought. "I have a bit left, I said to me, I went home. 'Why, I can open another checking account—and be independent of my husband!'"

Of course I could think of nothing else.

"If only this had happened yesterday," I thought. "Then I could have straightened out all accounts, without bothering Jack."

"And after it was all arranged I could have told him. And he would have thought me the most extraordinary little business woman ever."

How would Jack look at it? I'd have to ask him. That was the funniest thing about being married. When a big thing happened I couldn't decide it for myself. It was necessary for me always to consult my husband!

Jack came home early at my urgent request over the phone. I handed the false pearls to him. He tossed them back to me.

"I don't like them Peggie! They don't look like yours!"

"But they are! The originals! They ones I paid for!"

And then I gave him the details of the most startling mistake in the history of the jewelry business.

MORE U. S. NEWS IN FRENCH NEWSPAPER

By Associated Press

New York—With the purpose of intensifying American life and thought to the people of France, the news paper Le Figaro of Paris, will henceforth devote weekly a measurable portion of its space to American affairs.

French newspapers differ largely from those in this country. As a rule they give relatively little space to foreign news, using only short dispatches. Heavy demands are made upon them by politics and as a result political editorial articles crowd out news of what the rest of the world is doing.

Furthermore the theatre and matters literary receive much space in their columns.

Le Figaro, however, is going to depart in a measure from precedent. It has opened an office in New York in charge of Louis Thomas and C. M. Lerner, who will send it by cable and by mail news of the United States particularly matters in which both countries are interested, as well as descriptive stories of American life, and financial, industrial and political articles.

Le Figaro was purchased on Nov. 10, 1921 by M. Coty.

PAINTED NEGLIGES

Hand-painted negligees are now being imported. Usually they are of dashing colors, with large splashy designs with futuristic tendencies.

Adventures Of The Twins

Crookabone's Favor

The secret was out at last. "Oh, Nick, we've got the right record after all," said Nancy. "It for got its message because it had a raveling from the Cloth of Dreams wrapped around it. Now the poor Squeedilums are all tangled up in it and they can't remember a thing either. We can't go away and leave them this way. Look at poor little Mr. Jinks. He doesn't even remember his own name."

"But if we touch the raveling we'll forget everything too," said Nick. "Just as we did in the Sorcerer's cave and then we'll never get to the end of our journey."

"What, that? What's that?" came another voice. And there stood the ugly little gnome called Crookabone.

"Oh sir," begged Nancy, "please don't work any of your bad magic. We've had so much trouble and we're on an important errand. Mr. Twelve Toes the Sorcerer, has kept us back terribly."

"But," said Crookabone shortly. "I'm not bothering you. I don't care a snap about your errand or about Twelve Toes or anything else just now. I've got affairs of my own to attend to."

"I was on my way to the Money Lender's to pay him some money I borrowed when I heard someone talking about a raveling from the Cloth of Dreams."

"I've been looking for one for a hundred years. Where is it? Give it to me. I'll hand it to the Money Lender instead of my money and he'll forget I owe it to him."

"But that isn't honest," protested Nick.

"Honest? I should say not. If it was I wouldn't go and I'd wicked Crookabone. 'Gnomes are neither truthful or honest. Oh there it is,' saying the raveling. 'I've wrapped around those silly Squeedilums who don't know anything.'"

Crookabone gave it a jerk and disappeared.

The Squeedilums were free.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

American husbands to be preferred not to think about buying their brides' clothes till after the ceremony, but in Central Asia the method of proposal is to ask a girl if one may buy her clothes.

She, through her parents, names the sum she thinks is needed to start housekeeping.

If he is too poor, of course, he cannot pay. If he decides to buy, then the wedding is celebrated twice—once for her friends and once for his.

Never Tardy At School In Thirteen Years

Burlington, Ia.—Norman I. Young claims the Iowa record for school attendance. In 13 years when the spring term ended for the long vacation, he had not been absent or tardy once.

He doesn't know but this may be a record for the country—he is pretty sure about his own state.

Norman has been active in school athletics and is president of the Gideon Bible class.

During vacation time he works in his father's cigar factory. Later he expects to go to college.

MANY AMENDMENTS TO TARIFF ARE OFFERED

By Associated Press

Washington—Only 516 of the 2,087 committee amendments to the tariff bill have been acted upon in the senate in more than two months that the measure has been under consideration.

Four hundred and fifteen of these were approved without change he said. Of the others the committee recommended reductions of rates in 84 instances and increases in 11 while the senate lowered the rates in three and increased the rates in the same number.

GIRLS! LEMONS

BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons in to a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

PLAID COSTUME IS ATTRACTIVE

WOMAN'S INSTITUTE Fashion Service

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

Sports clothes so distinctive! American seem also to be essentially feminine.

This slipover blouse with ruffled collar and simple sleeves plays an interesting part in combining attractiveness with the stretch plaid skirt which is finished with an inconspicuous band at the waist line.

The slash in the skirt portion of the blouse and the binding finish are repeated both in the sleeves and at the neck line.

Simulated pockets may be used in the blouse or they may be entirely omitted. Buttonholes are tedious for routine so we—straps and snap fasteners serve to hold the front section up. The buttons are then used exclusively for decoration.

Gingham, tan, green, and fisherwomen are good substitutes for routine when such fabrics better meet one's purpose.

Fabric spots hats invariably carry a harmonizing color note. In this case wool embroidery makes the color.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You avoid practices that are likely to make difficulties for your friends.

You do not borrow clothes or personal belongings from an other except under most unavoidable circumstances, then you return them in perfect condition.

You always make reparation for any damage to the property of another.

Household Hints

ENGAGEMENT RINGS

The sale of diamonds this month is reported to be very heavy. The most popular time at present is the diamond solitaire, cut in a square or diamond shape and mounted in platinum.

WHITE TURBAN

The white satin turban is now just about as popular as the black one was a few months ago. It is worn in much the same manner and is very close fitting.

LACE DESIGNS

Many of the new sweaters are knitted with lace designs in very light weight wool threads. These are very cool and attractive.

COLORS CHINA

Tea sets of bright orange-colored china are very popular for use in country homes and on summer porches. Plain colored china particularly in sandy colors is very much liked.

COIN SPOTS

Three coin spots are making their appearance in the neck and collar but they are not so striking as they used to be in regard to color. Violent contrasts are not in vogue.

TRIMMINGS

The use of trimmings grows with the season. Many frocks have side panels composed entirely of heavy strands of silk. Fringed necks and trimmed gloves are also much liked.

LINGERIE

Recent lingerie importations show the form of the nightgown is a highly scalloped lace trimmed with a buttoned by hand. The most delicate of laces are used for the yoke and sleeves.

FIND BODY OF DETROIT DIVINE IN LAKE SUPERIOR

Reichenbach, Mich.—The body of George W. Dickinson of Detroit, a young divinity student temporarily assigned to the Episcopal church at Ontonagon, Mich., who disappeared April 13, was found floating in Lake Superior a mile and a half from Reichenbach Point Thursday.

OLDEST SOLDIER NOT TOO OLD FOR MARRIAGE

Fond du Lac — William De Stoeck, 72, the youngest old soldier in Wisconsin, has taken out a marriage license to wed Miss Josephine L. Adams, 62.

Col. De Stoeck has been active in patriotic circles. He is a past commander of the Wisconsin G. A. R. and is present commander of the local post. He was the youngest volunteer in the civil war from this county.

During the world war Col. De Stoeck was active in organizing the home guard.

DR. SUN IS PRESIDENT WITHOUT A REPUBLIC

By Associated Press

Shanghai—Dr. Sun Yan Sen the president without a republic was reported according to advices received from the South by Chinese news here.

An unconfirmed message from the Canton region states that when Sun's rival forces deserted him he fled the scene of his defeat and now is making his way towards Shanghai by an unclassified route.

Some Chinese sources in the south also comes the report that Wu Tingfang formerly Sun's foreign minister and at one time Chinese minister to Washington has refused the post of civil government of Kwang Tung province offered him by General Chen Chung Ling, conqueror of Canton.

HOUSE WILL CONSIDER CAPPER-TINCHER BILL

Washington—The house Thursday

by a vote of 226 to 25 took up the Capper-Tincher bill to amend the future trading act but almost immediately laid it aside for the consideration of an appropriation bill.

Kellogg's SHREDDED KRUMBLES

deliciously flavored WHOLE-WHEAT

Strength that counts!

Physicians find an alarming and increasing number of breakdowns among school children due to lack of proper nourishment—foods robbed of vital elements the body demands! It is not how much a child eats—but what it eats!

Types of robust men and women you see doing the big work in the world represent the children of yesterday who were given the proper food! Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time in food history—will supply the proper balance for a child's diet, because KRUMBLES contain all the elements the body needs!

KRUMBLES make red blood and build bone and muscle as no other food can! Children who eat KRUMBLES grow strong and rugged! Children should eat KRUMBLES every day—they are a food necessity! All grocers sell KRUMBLES!

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

REVERENCE SHOWN TO AMERICAN GIRL

Podgoritz, Montenegro.—Miss Margaret N. Robins, an American girl, has been made an "angel" by the Turkish population of this city. Miss Robins, who comes from Philadelphia, has been doing Red Cross work among the poor of "Turkey Town," the Moslem quarter of Podgoritz, where she has come to be worshipped as "the American angel." She has saved the lives of many women and children and the grateful natives look upon her with the reverence and adoption of a patron saint.

Cannot Be Improved Upon

There are some things that cannot be improved upon;
and a good loaf of bread is one of them.
The art of breadmaking is centuries old.
Our bread comes to you, savory, well baked, made from select grains, from your purest flour; it is an ornament and a necessity to your table; it represents the acme of intelligence, experience, science and skill of the human race.

MILK The First Aid To Good Health

No milk, no baby — no baby, no nation. These words are often on the lips of one of the best authorities on child welfare in this country and they are spoken out of the fullness of knowledge acquired by years of experience with all sorts of babies—well babies and sick babies, fat babies and thin babies.

Because the welfare of the child is of such vital moment, the study of food is of special interest, for nothing has a greater bearing on the health of the child than the food which we give him to eat. It is true that the children of today are the grown-ups of tomorrow, and the kind of food they eat when they are young will very largely determine the kind of men and women they will become.

Healthy children are happy children, and healthy children are likely to make healthy, busy adults equipped for useful work and good citizenship. The natural food of the child is milk, and for the first few months of his life, it supplies all the material necessary to maintain life and promote growth at a rapid rate. Common sense has long told us that milk should be given a large place in the child's diet and now Science adds her voice to say that milk has a far greater importance than we have previously attached to it and that a greater consumption of milk and milk products by children and older people will bring a benefit in increased health and efficiency to those who use it liberally.

This is no casual guesswork, but the testimony of all those who have given the subject exhaustive study. They tell us why too. Did you know that milk supplies protein of the best quality for body building and that it not only serves this purpose, but supplements the protein of the cereals and other food? Bread and milk, porridge and milk, rice and milk, etc., are old standbys which have proven their worth, but we have only recently understood the scientific reason of their importance.

Then, too, the fat of milk ranks high above any other fat used as food, because it contains the indispensable Fat
Soluble A so necessary for physical and mental development.
Other foods also contain it, but butter fat is the best and most convenient source. Whole milk, butter, cream and cheese are rich in this growth promoting vitamin and they are procurable almost anywhere at all seasons of the year.

The Water Soluble vitamins are also present in milk and the mineral matter which it contains assures he child who uses sufficient milk and milk products, strong bones and good, hard teeth. Whether you are building a house, a barn, or simply helping your child to build a strong, healthy body, you will want to be sure of the framework. It is impossible to build a good building without sound framework and, for your house or barn, you must be particular to secure strong beams and seasoned lumber. So, too, the child must have a strong framework, or he can never attain full strength. Although you cannot go out and buy strong bones for him, you can give him food from which he will get material to build a sturdy skeleton. When the body is growing, the bones must become longer and thicker and stronger and more lime and phosphorus are necessary in his food. Did you know that milk supplies more lime than any other common food and that the phosphorus is also present in large amounts? The mixed diet very often contains an insufficient amount of these minerals, but the mother who gives milk the chief place in the day's menu will have her reward in the strong, sturdy physique of her children. She must, however, give them milk of the first quality—the best, the cleanest and the purest available. She must buy good milk, carefully handled, and keep it in good condition after it comes into the home. The mother needs the cooperation of a reliable dealer to provide this best food for her growing family, but she must do her share in keeping it clean and pure.

Milk is not the only good food we have, but its accessibility, the ease with which it can be served, the many ways of using it and the food constituents it provides, make it the most important food in all ages—in babyhood, in childhood, in middle life and in old age. And remember, no milk, no baby—no baby, no nation.

Get our Contamo-Tested Milk, and you will be sure of getting just such milk as outlined in this article. If you are not one of our numerous customers as yet, phone 834 for a trial of our milk and compare it beside ordinary raw milk for a week or two, and just notice the difference in taste, always uniform in taste, no cowbarn flavor—but always clean;
remember we are the licensees of the Contamo-Test for Appleton, which insures our milk to be pure, and Pasteuriza-tion renders it perfectly safe. We have just recently added a glass lined pasteurizer and our milk now will be pasteurized in glass.

KAUKAUNA VALLEY TEAM BEATS FONDY IN BOOSTER GAME

More Than 500 Attend Exhibition Game at Brandt Park Thursday Afternoon

Nearly 600 fans saw Brautigan's Kaukauna Valley team defeat the Fondy du Lac squad in the booster game at Brandt park Thursday afternoon by a score of 9 to 6. The proceeds will be used for repairing the damage done to the grand stands at Kaukauna by the storm.

The Kaukauna team lived up to its reputation as a heavy hitting outfit getting 15 wallops off Stack. Stack's regular position with the Fountain City team is third base which may account in a measure for the bingles gathered but the down river boys were there with the stick at that and would have made any pitcher call for help.

Smith pitched most of the game for Kaukauna and showed up fairly well having five strikeouts to his credit. Not a single Kaukauna batter was whiffed. Hase pitched the last two innings and looked good.

Kaukauna started the fireworks in the initial frame when Johnson got to first on an error by Karst. Cavil was next up and got to first on a short roller but Johnson was caught at second. Cavil stole second and was advanced to third by Brautigan and then scored on Smith's hit along third base foul line.

Fondy put a scare into the Kaukauna fans in the second inning when Karst and Stack each scored. Karst got a walk was sacrificed to second by Lehman and came home on Stack's two bagger. Stack stole third after making the two sack wallop and slid into home when Stegman let a pitched ball get away from him.

The Brautigans more than evened things up in the next frame by getting two runs and further upset the Fondy team by getting a run in the fourth and another in the fifth.

The Karst combination worked again for Fondy in the sixth inning. Karst got a life on a short bingle, went to second on a passed ball and trotted leisurely to the plate when Stack cracked the pill over right field fence. Stack's homer tied the score.

Fondy du Lac got one more run in the seventh inning as L. Faris got a wallop for two sacks and a run on a hit by L. Faris.

Kaukauna tied the count in the seventh. Marston singled, was advanced to second when Burns was hit by a pitched ball and came home when "Boots" Lamers wallop was missed by Stack and hopped out past second base. Brautigan scored the final tally for his boys in the eighth frame. He got a nice clean two base hit to left field and scored on a hit by Smith just as clean and to the same garden.

Following is the box score:

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

Always Watch Second Base

By BILLY EVANS

Second base is the keystone of the infield. A majority of the double plays made in a ball game pivot around second base. Proper execution of a double play very often means the difference between winning and losing a ball game.

During the major league season, I see at least thirty games lost each year simply because slow or improper handling of the ball prevented the completion of what should have been a double play.

At all times there should be a man covering second base ready to make a play. This player must be either the second baseman or the shortstop, depending on conditions.

JUDGING THE BATTER

Keep your eyes on the ball is the first principal of the game. If you are a second baseman or shortstop, the next bit of advice is, keep your eye on the base.

Having the location of the base definitely fixed in one's mind, the player rushes over to the base mechanically, to handle a throw and no time is lost.

MORVICH SHOWS UP WELL IN TRIAL

Cincinnati—Morvich, the great 3 year old, who will be called upon in the $50,000 Kentucky special at Landonia next Saturday to retrieve last week's defeat by Whiskaway, did a mile and an eighth here on Wednesday in 1:54. This is an eight less than he and his competitors will step in the special.

Showing apparently little effort, the black horse carried 115 pounds a quarter of a mile in 32 seconds, the half in 47.25, three quarters in 1:13.25, the mile in 1:41 and the nine furlongs in 1:54.

Deadlock, R. H. Shannon's entry was sent one and a quarter miles in 2:08, despite a heavy covering of dirt on the track. He finished the mile in 1:41.35.

Thiebaudaux, owned by W. Pegkins, worked in a mile in 1:40.25, without being in the least extended.

Giants Miss George Burns

By Billy Evans

What ails the New York Giants? Perhaps that is a rather peculiar question to ask about a club that is leading the National League race by a comfortable margin.

However, there is no getting away from the fact that the showing of the Giants to date has been considerable of a disappointment.

When I saw the Giants play the Yankees in the world series last fall McGraw's club made a great impression on me. It loomed up as a truly great ball club.

During the winter McGraw made a trade for Heinie Groh, one of the greatest third sackers of all time.

In 1921 the Giants, with Fritsch at third, Bancroft at short, Rawlins at second and Kelly at first, had a great infield.

GEORGE BURNS

GROH'S STRENGTH

Certainly the addition of Groh seemed to have greatly strengthened the club. Taking that into consideration the Giants seemed to me to outclass the rest of the National League field. I really thought that by Sept. 1, or perhaps earlier New York would have the National League pennant tucked away in catcher ball.

Possibly the Giants will come through that strong. At the Polo Grounds the club has played good ball, but on the road it has been just so-so.

During the past month I have talked with a number of National League players and umpires about the Giants. If you can believe them the failure of the Giants to distance the rest of the field is due to the loss of George Burns. Any time you ask what ails the Giants the reply is always the same.

"They miss old George Burns."

The other day I was talking with a prominent National League star and he remarked to me:

"We have beaten the Giants at least four games that would have gone against us with Burns playing center field for the Giants."

THE VALUE OF BURNS

The very fact that Shinners, Cunningham, Boone, Brown and now old Casey Stengel have tried to fill the bill is proof of Burns' great value to the club.

"His absence has cost the Giants four games against us, so it is reasonable to suppose similar conditions have existed against other teams."

BROWNS LOSE 11 INNINGS TO TYGERS

Rigney's Single In Last Frame Gets Winning Run For Detroit Team

Detroit—Cutshaw's tripple followed by Rigney's single, ended an eleven inning pitched duel between Ehmeke and Pruett here on Thursday, and allowed Detroit to beat St. Louis 3-2 in the opening game of a series of four. The league leaders held a two run advantage until the sixth inning, when Pruett weakened momentarily, allowing the Tigers to tie the score. Both pitchers received effective backing. Pruett particularly getting a light support in the pinches. Score: St. Louis 0101000000—01 Detroit 00000200001—3121 Batteries: Pruett and Collins; Ehmeke and Basler.

RED SOX TRIM YANKS

Boston—Boston defeated New York 6 to 2, on Thursday in a game interrupted three times by heavy showers, hail and lightning. John Quinn again beat his former mates, holding the league champions to five hits. Hoyt was hit hard in the early innings. For six innings the visitors made only one hit off Quinn. John Collins played well. Score: New York 0000011000—251 Boston 0001013001—6101 Batteries: Hoyt, Murray, Jones and Hoffman; Quinn and Ruel.

SOX WIN 2-0

Chicago—Garhan Leverette, the big rookie pitcher obtained from the Fort Smith, Ark., club, held Cleveland to six hits and shut them out for the second time this season. Chicago winning, 3 to 0. The victory put Chicago in fourth place.

The locals won the game by bunching their hits off Coveleski in two innings. Score: Cleveland 0000000000—002 Chicago 0000010200—300 Batteries: Coveleski, Lindsey and O'Neill; Leverette and Shalk.

REUTHER WINS HIS TWELFTH VICTORY

Brooklyn's Chase Giants Pitcher Ryan And Win Close Game By 3-2 Count

New York — Reuther, Brooklyn's star lefthander, won his twelfth victory of the season here on Thursday, defeating New York in a fast, hard fought game by a score of 3 to 2. While New York outbit Brooklyn, Reuther always had the game in hand. Ryan was knocked out in the fourth inning, hits by Mitchell, Brooklyn's substitute first baseman being largely responsible for the two runs scored on Ryan. A diving catch by Outfielder Myers featured the game. Score: Brooklyn 010101000—360 New York 0001001000—282 Batteries: Reuther and De Berry; Ryan, J. Barnes, Causey and Smith.

PIRATES BEAT CUBS

Pittsburg — Pittsburg and Chicago played off a postponed game here on Thursday. The Pirates winning by a score of 8 to 6. Barnhart started the locals' scoring with a homer into the right field bleachers in the second inning, and Alexander gave way to Osborne in the fifth after the locals had scored four runs. Osborne was hit hard, and his wild pitch scored two runs. The visitors staged a rally on Copper in the ninth, scoring four runs. Score: Chicago 0000010014—6131 Pittsburg 0011210200—8110 Batteries: Alexander, Osborne and Wirtz; Copper, Carlson and Gooch.

Chicago — Charlie White and Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweights were matched to go ten rounds at Aurora June 30.

COUNTY LEAGUERS GATHER TONIGHT TO DISCUSS GAME

Change in Method of Selecting Umpires to be Brought Up At Meeting

Directors of the Outagamie County Baseball league will meet in the office of the Post-Crescent at 7:30 Friday evening to discuss affairs of considerable consequence to the league. The first half of the season ends July 16 and the second half starts the following Sunday. Arrangements must be made for a schedule for the last half.

It is possible that a change in the method of selecting umpires also will be made at this meeting. It is extremely difficult to find umpires who can go out in the country towns Sunday afternoons and as a result there has been some complaint because the arbiters were not up to the standard desired.

Arrangements probably will be made for playing off two games postponed because of the storm of last week. These games must be played before July 16 so that all the teams will be on an even footing when the season ends.

BACKHAND TOSS

Never being in a fixed position, the distance the shortstop or second baseman must cover to reach second to take a throw constantly varies. That is why it is necessary to have the location of second definitely fixed in your mind. It sounds easy but it takes practice.

I have often seen major league players drawn out of place by some hard hit ball, having their backs to second base, yet complete the play by a perfect back-hand toss of the ball to the player covering the base.

Such plays are made possible by practice plus team play.

OLD N. W. UNIVERSITY MAN HURLS PERFECT GAME

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Dr. E. C. Juel, dentist of Garrison, S. D. who Sunday pitched a perfect game of baseball for the Flisworth, Minn. team against the Linsmore, Minn. aggregation, has been playing semi-professional baseball in this section for the past six years. Dr. Juel, sent Linsmore down to defeat by striking out 18 men in succession. Not a man on the Linsmore team reached first base.

Followers of college ball may perhaps recall Dr. Juel as the pitcher for Northwestern University in 1914 and 1915 whose work earned him a tryout with the Chicago White Sox.

NEED PITCHER TO FACE GREEN BAY HERE ON SUNDAY

Possibility That Noble Will Be Unable to Play With Local Team

The Appleton baseball club of the Fox River Valley league will go into the game with Green Bay here Sunday afternoon with the same lineup as was used against Kaukauna with the possible exception of the pitcher.

It was announced early in the week that Rube Noble of Stroughton, the new young gent who played in right field last Sunday, would go on the mound, but now there is some question whether he will be able to come.

It is reported here that his mother is in a hospital and Noble isn't sure whether her condition will be such that he can leave her to come here. He is expected to send a definite statement to the local club today. Madison newspapers Thursday carried the announcement that Noble is signed to pitch for the Capital city team but this is denied here. The report was characterized as "bunk" by club officials here.

There is a possibility that Earl Howard, who pitched Appleton to a win over Kaukauna last Sunday, will work again next Sunday. The club has been trying to get in touch with him but had not succeeded in getting a definite answer from him Friday morning.

Green Bay found itself last Sunday after taking a licking from Kaukauna the previous week and is expected to put a formidable team in the field. The game is scheduled to start at 2:45.

TRAILING THE TEAMS

Dutch Ruether's pitching squeezed a 3-2 victory from the league leaders. It was Ruether's 12th victory of the season. The lowly Phillies bested the Braves 5 to 4 and the Pirates, hitting heavily trimmed the Cubs 3 to 5. The Cards and Reds had an off day.

Cobb's Tigers took an eleven inning battle from the Browns 3 to 2 while the Yanks were defeated by the Red Sox 6-2. The Indians were shut out by the White Sox 3 to 0 while the Mackmen and Washington were idle.

Cecil Downs, a right hander who came to the Chicago White Sox from Gonzaga University, Spokane, Wash., was released to the Kalamazoo club of the Central League but will return to the Sox when the season up there closes in September.

Clyde Barnhart of the Pirates had a perfect day at bat. He cracked out
